EDITOR'S MESSAGE

This 90th volume of the Berkeley High School yearbook is dedicated to the spirit and tradition of excellence and cooperation that defines BHS.

Publishing a yearbook (not to mention an expanded 400 page one!) is a huge job. After attending a yearbook seminar over the summer, assistant editor Kathie Eastman and I came back to school with endless ideas for the book. The result, I hope, is a more artistic, but still traditional, BHS yearbook with an increased emphasis on school-wide input. BHS students have contributed writing, artwork, and photography.

There is no way to acknowledge everyone who has contributed and without whom this yearbook would not be complete. Some of the essential people I would like to thank for their support, time, and cooperation are Mr. Dwight Purdy and Ms. Debby Goto of Josten's American Yearbook Company; Mr. Calvin Harrell, Jr., of Harrell School Pictures; our principal, Mrs. Samantha Lee; our student activities coordinator, Ms. Thelette Bennett, and others in the school administration. Most of all I would like to acknowledge the work of our advisor, Mr. Charles Kratz, and the other members of the yearbook staff, who put in hours and hours of work, including weekends and holidays, to take and develop pictures, write copy, perfect layouts, and do all the "little jobs," such as alphabetizing and typing, without which there would have been disaster.

The purpose of a yearbook is to preserve memories. What I hope for and what I feel will make this yearbook a success is this—if, as you venture through life, when you find that old BHS yearbook in a box in your closet and look through it, the feeling of this school and this time in your life flows back to you.

I often wonder how different I would be had I not gone to BHS. All the diversity that I have, for the most part, taken for granted, would be foreign to me. Would I still love foreign accents, eccentric clothing styles or exotic foods?

The influence this school has had on me will last the rest of my life.

Sheila Prados
Freshman

One of my fondest memories of Berkeley High is the first time I was in a school play. I had a small part in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," but you've got to start somewhere. I was a little nervous at first, of course. But after several rehearsals I lost my shyness and made many friends.

ACTIVITIES

CHEERLEADERS

The large size of this year's squad created many difficulties, but the members stuck together. Car pools formed to carry the squad to the away games. The cheerleaders had a great time peppering the team on to victory. The pompon girls, although a smaller group, entertained the fans with great routines. "People in the front, let me hear you grunt."

POMPON GIRLS

STARS

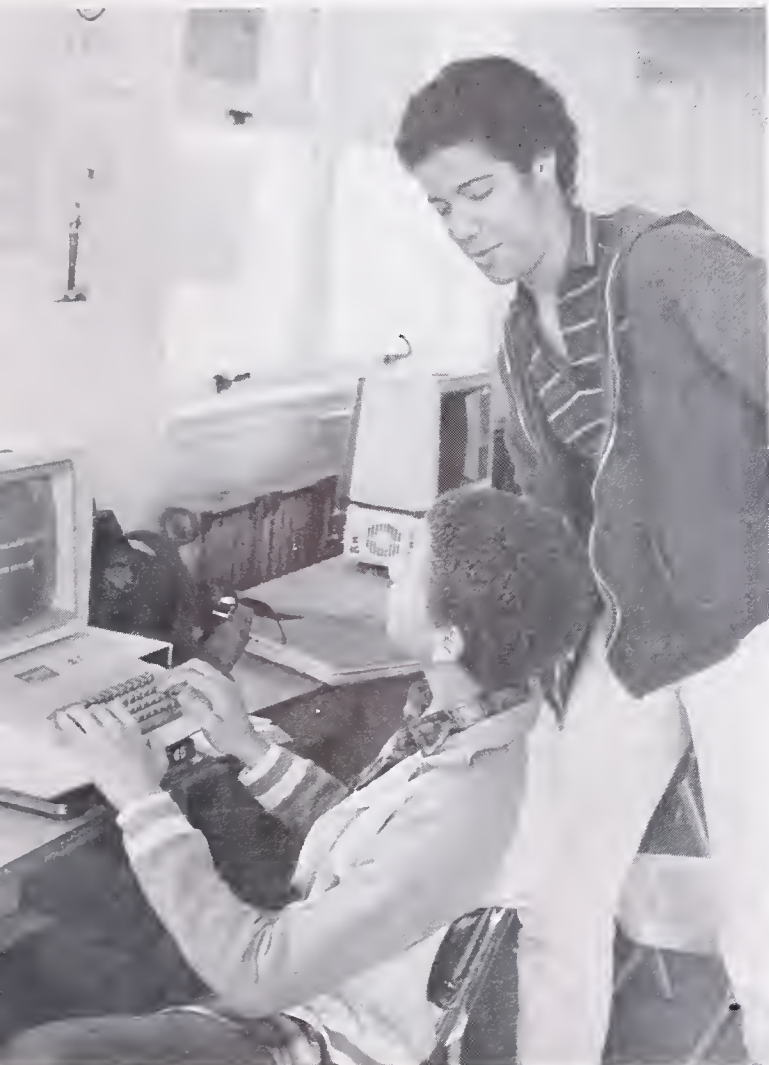

The Stars is a group of students united all under one desire, the desire to perform. It contains many different departments satisfying all performing art areas. They consist of Dancing, Acting, Singing, Music, and Backstage Crew. The goal of the club is to perform various shows, and to have a good time.

1. The Acting Department.
2. The Music and Singing Department.
3. The Backstage Department.
4. The Dancing Department.

COMPUTER CLUB

This year the Computer Club operated on a drop-in basis. Every other Friday afternoon, open game-playing was offered. At other meetings, speakers came to talk on various subjects, including Allen Sagan's 'How to get your software published.'

Club President: Peter Quady

CHess CLUB

2.

Every Tuesday you can find the members of the Chess Club sitting in deep thought, amidst the test tubes and bunsen burners in Mr. Choulett's Chemistry room (otherwise known as the "Bird Sanctuary"). They are competitors in an evergoing tournament. The Club would like to recognize the skills of Itea Goldstein and Rubin Sloan.

SONS & DAUGHTERS OF AFRIKA

Founded in 1978, the Sons and Daughters of Afrika is a cultural association dedicated to the task of diminishing the negative while accentuating the positive aspects of African life. This year's president and vice president are Rod Lanchester and Alan Shaw.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club was founded so that the students at Berkeley High would have a chance to explore all the different aspects of science in one club.

The purpose of the Science Club is to inform students on recent issues in science. Each member has the responsibility to bring an article or some artifact concerning science so that he or she may share this information with other club members.

The club also provides information on science-related scholarships, competitions, and projects. Lecturers and field trips make the club even more interesting because the members are able to meet people who are either involved in research or who have up-to-date information.

SASA

This year the Students Against Starvation in Africa formed in response to the famine in Ethiopia. Our purpose was to help find a solution to the crisis. The club had a goal to earn $5000. The group was divided into three groups. The Finance Committee researched different organizations to determine which would send the first $500 through UNICEF. The Outreach Program contacts groups in other schools, writes letters to organizations, and sends off the money. The Graphic Arts Committee designed the letter heads for letter forms and drew signs. The club managed to have several fundraisers. We set up donation tables in the courtyard. The participation of students and the outcome of the first donation table were pleasingly surprising. We passed out some literature about Ethiopia's situation. In the attempt to inform others, we gained invaluable knowledge ourselves.

NATURE CONSERVATION & HIKING CLUB

The conservation and hiking club is a natural conglomerate of unnatural people with a naturally conservative approach to natural problems. Although in some ways as for instance the observation of treefrogs and newt communication, the club is more progressive than some. It all began during the Pleistocene. Who knows when it will end. On one trip to Mt. Shasta, every one of our vehicles got pulled over by the CHP (Fascist Bastards!), and given a citation. Then we got snowed in. That was the weekend that some guy died up there. We had a grand time recreating the Donner party barbecue.

PHOTO CLUB

The Photo Club managed to have a very successful year despite a few difficulties including plumbing problems in the darkroom. The more advanced students helped beginners at developing and printing. The club went on a weekend trip to a cabin in the mountains. It held bake-sales at the 'Three Penny Opera performances. It also sponsored the annual photo contest which drew entries from high schools all over the Bay Area.

SPANISH CLUB

This year the Spanish Club, El Chiste, was formed. This formation has brought an exciting new addition to the cultural affairs at B.H.S. The group always welcomes new members. The only requirement for membership is an interest in Spanish and an appetite for Hispanic food! Some activities of this club are: dinner outings, field trips, and attending Spanish Performances.

FRENCH CLUB

Le Club forme pour et par l'aliance francaise est l'association le plus extra dans cet lycee.

Students wanting a French club went out and formed the first one at Berkeley High in a long time. Lawrence Smith, president, was the first to organize the club. With the solid help by his officers, the French club had stayed strong, with its funds rising at a good pace. This club's activities included trips to San Francisco to see French movies, putting on bake sales, and showing films at school. A major project is in the works for spring '85.

AFRIKAN STUDENT UNION

The African Student Association is an organization whose roots go back to the original Black Student union in 1967. This original B.S.U. was formed by Black s students who were tired of the racism reflected in the existing curriculum. They demanded and received the present African -American Studies Department.

Today's African Student Association maintains the tradition of the first B.S.U. by acting as an advocate for the continued existence of the African American Studies Department. Over the past years, the they have marched , picketed, staged sleep-ins, and addressed the school board and community groups in order to maintain the program.

DESERT RATS

This spring vacation, about 30 BHS students along with Biology teacher Kim Pensky and several other adults camped in the Mojave Desert. We caught lizards, hiked, learned about animal and plant life, and had a lot of fun making new friends. The adventures started in 1982 with a group of 20 students. It's a fantastic experience, but after seven days without running water, one can't wait to get back to civilization.

ASIAN STUDENT UNION

Established in 1969, A.S.U. is an ethnic group primarily comprised of Asian students, but we extend our arms to welcome all nationalities.

Among the activities A.S.U. is involved in are the Nihonmachi Festival held every summer in Japan town, the Autumn Festival, the Day of Remembrance, Community work in areas such as Church organizations and Community organizations like the Berkeley Asian Youth Center(BAYC), designed to aid Asian Youth.

The purposes and goals of this union is to bridge the gap between immigrant and American born, to help in family, social and academic problems, and also to learn of each other's cultures and have fun together.

The Producers(A.K.A. the Maxi-PADS) is a group of Performing Arts students dedicated to raising funds for the department. Their major project for the year was holding a raffle. Led by Susanah Iwase and Beth Warden, everyone pitched in and solicited many items to raffle off. Their work paid off with a Grand Prize of a 4-day weekend at Tahce, and the raffle was a great success.

THE TRIBE

The Tribe is a volleyball club that meets on the weekends at the Bancroft Courts. The group plays both doubles and six-man games. The six-man games are usually very casual, while the doubles tend to be more intense and competitive. The group is open to all levels of players, and basic instruction is offered to the beginners. There are many new members this year.

FALL JACKET

In Michael Hassett's first semester as Jacket advisor, he took 20 unexperienced but eager students, and was able to produce a top quality paper. All of the writing was done by staff members except for a few guest articles. One major change about the Jacket this year was that it was printed at the school by the graphic arts department. In past years that job was given to professional printers.

The staff and Mr. Hassett were both able to overcome a lot of the craziness and disorganization experienced at the beginning of any year. Conflicts between the staff and the advisor created problems as did the fact that the editor Nina Diamond was not enrolled in the class. Due to these problems the Jacket came out irregularly. Because of solid work done by dedicated reporters the rare issues were interesting. Dedicated photographers Erik Monrad and Devi Gill made them nice to look at.

YEARBOOK

Enter G201 to find the smell of rubber cement, the clatter of the typewriter, and the blare of music. If a deadline's looming, there are half-finished layouts, overworked photographers, and frantic editors. If a deadline's just been sent in, there's gossip and E. T.'s making lists. No matter what, there's dietCoke and people who care about publishing the best yearbook ever. P.S. It's the biggest yearbook in California.

Berkeley High's mock trial team cruised easily past their opponents this year under the smooth leadership of Mr. Eichorn, whose qualifications include good taste in ties and a five on the Purity Test. Team veterans Mike "ballpoint" Schragg, Chip "your Honor" Rosenfeld, Shari "the defense rests" Bradford, and Izzy "non-suit" Ramsey quickly got the rest of the team in shape to whale upon Piedmont. Practice sessions were seldom boring, due to the sex appeal of the jury, the good food, and the frequent cries of "Was it raining that night?!"

The Tom Ginsburg Memorial Award for Most Improved was awarded to Adam Ballachey for Not Arguing With the Judge. Best Accent in a Supporting Role went to Erik Burns as Narasaki, while Ben Dillon easily walked off with the Best Perry Mason imitation and Manya DeLeon and Erik Price captured Best Sobbing and Mr. Congeniality, respectively.

It was raining.

MODEL U.N.

Do you know the way to San Jose? Ten members of Model U.N. do. This year we went to a conference of the Model United Nations at Santa Teresa High School in San Jose where we represented Australia and Vietnam on committees discussing problems in Africa, problems in Central America, rights to air and water boundaries, and a world monetary system. This conference gave experience to many of our new members. For the larger Berkeley conference in March we were only going to represent Norway at first, but as the club expanded we added Fiji, and the Solomon Islands. Our delegates participated in committees discussing Starvation, Naval Disarmament, Drug Trafficking, and the ever so popular International Terrorism.

The former Junior Statesmen of America, now known simply as Junior State, proved once again this year that Berkeley Chapter rules the region. We punched in at more than 200 members and made even Gilroy look soft. Several members of the chapter hold positions on the regional and state levels, and we were the only chapter to sponsor a hitchhiking seminar this year.

Thanks to Amy Montali and her staff of thousands, the JSA newsletter outsold Rolling Stone this year, and soon it may even have a title.

JSA's mascot is the groundhog; its official fruit is the M & M. How's that, Carey?

CLASS OFFICERS

This year, as in the past, the Class Officers of each class worked on fundraisers to defer the costs of Senior Activities. The Freshman class sponsored a Valentine gram. The Sophomore class sold Spring grams. The Junior class had the fantastic idea of raffling off Prince tickets. Other projects included bake sales, a dance and selling tickets for the school carnival.

The spirit of all classes was felt during Homecoming Week. Beginning with the Freshmen, each class pushed the next class to work harder and harder in order to gain their points. It all ended at the Homecoming Rally where the Seniors won the Spirit Cup. But for the first time all the classes will be listed on the cup for their outstanding efforts. As a special note, the tone and quality of beautifying the campus, instead of playing pranks, was extremely appreciated by the community and school administration.

STUDENT SENATE

The Student Senate is, as one candidate said, 'a group of eight trying to represent over 3,000.' The Senate appoints the Student Council President and Vice President, makes proposals to the principal, or on less busy days approves fund raisers and chats. The Senates' power has continued to grow during the past few semesters, and under the leadership of Ian Bain, that power has been put to good use. Of the many senates in BHS history, the 84-85 student senate is sure to be the best remembered.

On the first day of Close-Up our P.I.'s said to us: bus all means, don't miss the bus...' sang the BHS chorus at the banquet on the last night of their trip to Washington D.C. this year. Due to the large number of students participating in the Close-Up program, there were two scheduled trips this year. Unfortunately, at press time, the second group was still partying in D.C.! The Close-Up experience was the best IN THE WORLD! We were hustled around D.C., from monuments to seminars, buses (can you feel the pain...the window pane?). Then it was back to the hotel, good old Ho-jo's with its specialty-slippery eggs, and don't forget the long hike up the stairs. The highlight of the week, was our day on Capitol Hill. We were about to sit in on House and Senate Committee meetings, as well as see how the Supreme Court and Library of Congress function. Another interesting place to visit was the Smithsonian on the Mall. We'd not like only applaud all Close-Up participants TWICE, but also Nina Diamond, because without her, we would have never gotten out of Washington. A special thanks to Mr. Houck and Ms. Young for making the trips possible!

ESPRIT DE DANCE

Esprit de Dance is a group of Berkeley High Students whose purpose is to promote youth and the expression of dance. We plan trips to Bay Area dance clubs such as Berkeley Square and the Palladium. We use creative ideas in dressing and organizing group activities like wearing crazy make-up, unusual colors of socks or bandannas, and going to see movies such as 'That's Dancing'. This club exists as a symbol of our enthusiasm for music, life, and being young.

CIVIL AIR PATROL

The Civil Air Patrol is an auxiliary of the Air Force, a benevolent program similar to an ROTC program. Its voluntary members learn leadership skills, aerospace education, search & rescue, and first aid. In preparation to help in national emergencies and in finding downed planes. They spend one weekend session at an army base called Biourac. Although physical training is the emphasis, they also practice navigation, drill, and ceremonies and communication. Berkeley's squadron is only one of the many around the Bay Area.

SAILING CLUB

The sailing club was created by Mike Linhares this year to make it possible for students to enjoy sailing. The club activities take place during the spring semester, when the sun and wind arrive in the Bay Area. The exciting and fun times together as a club were a great learning experience for all included. The Sailing Club members are: Michael Linhares, President, Domingo Robinson, Suzi Cooper, Mariko Baker, Sally Baack, Catherine Zinn, John Chin, Helena Hansen, Micah Ball, Mike Murphy, Guilia Ferrari, Katrine Watson, Kristina Ravin, and Ericka Gaudet.

The Racquetball Club got off to a boomin' start this year led by President Richard Yee and Vice-President Michael Mayeri.

The goal of the Racquetball Club was to bring B.H.S. students interested in the sport, and those eager to learn, together to play some Racquetball.

With a membership of about 20 we were able to organize numerous activities at our weekly meetings. Some of the were: game instruction, different levels of play, player ladder and tournaments.

To summarize, the Racquetball Club was just ICY.

UJAMAA

The Ujamaa is a newspaper that is designed to express the feelings of students at BHS. The one major characteristic which separates the Ujamaa from the other BHS papers is that it is designed to express the feelings, viewpoints and issues which are uniquely African.

Since its beginning in 1968, the Ujamaa paper has striven for the 'free expression of Afrikan thought.' The Ujamaa was born because other BHS publications failed to express Black people's viewpoints. From the radical to the conservative, from the athletic to the academic, the Ujamaa covers issues which affect BHS's Black Community.

RUGBY

BHS's first ever Rugby Club-Team was formed in the Spring of 1984. The Fall of 1984, the team began as an official member of the Northern California High School Rugby Union. Under the guidance of coaches Arthur E. Doran, Jerry Pagouie and Ralph Nemeth. The team got off to a good start in 1985 season and continued to end up with a good record. Thanks to spirited play and excellent coaching the team has carried on the rugby tradition in Berkeley set by Cal-Berkeley and the Olde Blues.

SKI CLUB

If you drive around at 4 am on Saturday mornings, and happen to cruise by Berkeley High, the huge group of students you may see is the 1984-1985 Berkeley High Ski Club.

The Ski Club has had a very successful season. The first trip, December 8th and 9th to Squaw and Alpine was the largest in recent Ski Club history with 135 skiers and 3 advisors. Presidents John Kratz, Josh Meisel and Mikey Hom led about 3 trips, including a 3-day trip over semester break. The advisors of the club were Mr. Kratz, Mr. Eichorn, Mr. Hubbard and Mr. Doran. We stayed at Garni Lodge in Crystal Bay, with gourmet dining at the Cal Neva Lodge Smorgasbord. After dinner, skiers engaged in widely varied activities that usually affected the next day's skiing performance.

LACROSSE

In their second year in existence, the Lacrosse team showed they were ready for big-time competition. In a pre-season game they managed to stay close to the state champions, losing only 6-2, then won their season opener 8-4.

Five members of the team were named all-conference in the team's first year of play--goalie Reece Howell, defense man Brad Kraetzer, and Matt Tunis, and mid-fielders Rob Gillies and Lahue Mayo.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is composed of representatives from every second period class. Its status is similar to the House of Representatives. The many sub-committees handle the problems of vandalism, administrative policies, and school facilities. They make suggestions to help bridge relations between the staff and the students. The President in the Fall was Chip Rosenfeld. The President in the Spring was Otto Lee. The Vice-President was Kerri Glover.

GOURMET CLUB

The 1984-1985 Gourmet Club had a very successful year. The membership was astounding at the beginning of the year, and the first few dinners were well attended. As the year progressed some members grew lazier. However, the club enjoyed delicious feasts including French, Italian, and Chinese dinners, an hors d'oeuvre party, and a Sunday brunch. An end of the year 'Bash' is planned. As all of us who ate with us know, the food was excellent, and the gatherings were fun!! The Gourmet Club managed to raise money by selling refreshments at school performances. This money was sent to an El Salvadorean refugee center in San Francisco. Further proceeds were sent to help nourish the starving in Africa. We hope the money we made in this 'food' club can help others around the world who are not so fortunate. As a club we hope to continue in future years having fun gatherings while making money to donate to those who need help.

KEY CLUB

The Berkeley High School Key Club is a fundraising organization. We raise money through the Winter Ball, Marathon Dance and other fundraisers throughout the year. We then choose a cause to donate the profits of our efforts. Previously we have donated large sums of money (around $2000) to Alta Bates Hospital and Children's Center. This year we are considering the Ethiopian fund or a drug abuse center. The club had a lot of fun this year putting together the eventful Winter Ball and Marathon Dance- thanks to president, Betsy Craib, vice-president, Jodi Margolies, and secretary Kristina Raven, and the club members. Most events ran smoothly and were very successful.

WOMEN'S FIELD HOCKEY

We dragged ourselves to Kleeburger field every morning at 7:00 AM. We crisscrossed the highways of Northern California in search of opponents. We failed to win a game, although we did tie one. However, surprisingly enough, we had fun! During our long bus rides and warm-ups we jammed to the tunes of Prince's Purple Rain Soundtrack. We played pick-up games in the rain where half the team used sticks and the other half feet to hit the ball.

Everyone on the team improved tremendously through the coaching of Jane Sturm (Sturmie!) and her assistant Mary Lee Carey. Although we never reached the level of competition most of our opponents have sacrificed their social lives to attain, we did a pretty good job for a team made up of mostly first year players.

The Varsity Team was led by the skills of our returning players: on defense, Karen Smoller and April Westbrook and on offense, Allison Packard, Cynthia Horning, and Jenny Smith. Two first year players made especially great contributions. They were Mandie Feusner and Nicole Giegerman.

The Junior Varsity team consisted of entirely first-year players. Many of them also played in the varsity games as substitutes. This J.V. had more success than the varsity as they tied one game against University H.S. However, both teams mostly practiced and competed as a whole.

Karen Smoller was named most dedicated. April Westbrook, Jenny Smith, and Allison Packard were chosen as tri-MVPs. Mandie Feusner was given the honor of Most Improved Player. Special recognition should also be given to Cynthia Lorning for her excellent job as center-mid.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

The UNDEFEATED BHS women's tennis team had an icy final record of 17-0. The most rewarding victory was over Carondelet, the long-standing champions, not once but TWICE! The energy, devotion, and spirit of the entire team, the outstanding ability of certain players, and the famous Nike surprises were all responsible for the tremendous outcome.

Each team member made her own special contribution to the team. Number one singles player and league champion Jean Lozano, a junior, was a great support to her teammates, and along with other top players, led the team to victory. Freshman Erika Watkins played number two singles and was fierce both mentally and physically on the court. Senior Malaika Stoll not only played number three doubles but served as costume designer for the team. Junior Jenny Farnsworth, known for her beautiful strokes and her equally beautiful smile, played number four.

Alison Pownall, the tanned terror, and powerful Jenny Bagnell played an exceptional number one doubles. The "juiced juniors," Amy Nellis and Lucy Anderton, were "raw" in spot number two. The number three spot changed frequently as many strong players wanted it: Anne Schwartzburg and Margaret Doty, the team managers, played it for a time, as did Perry Pownall and Alison Thompson. Heidi Ronfeldt and Anise Nassiry finally ended up with the spot and did a damned good job of it.

The incredible team quickly got a reputatuon for its excellence. Albany and Bishop O'Dowd were so frightened that they didn't show up to play, and even Carondelet, anxious to keep their record, tried to back out by having God make it rain. Needless to say, Carondelet's efforts, as well as those of all the other teams, proved futile.

VOLLEYBALL

The volleyball team was the center of controversy during the fall sports season. After we had won our first four league games, one of our players, Rita Pope, was found ineligible: she had played varsity volleyball for College Preparatory High School (CPS). The team went on and played the remaining four games without Rita, winning three and losing one. But the damage had been done—we had to forfeit the first four games, so the final record was 3-5, not 7-1.

Both varsity and jayvee teams were strong. The jayvees ended their season with a perfect 8-0 record. Captain Allysa Nichols, a freshman, kept her team together both emotionally and mentally, on and off the court. From this squad will come some very promising players for the varsity next year.

Senior Akemi Hamai, varsity captain, also kept her team working together. Rita Pope and Cindy Adams played tough at the net, intimidating opponents with many great blocks. Super sets by both Akemi and Lan Wiborg, another senior, set up great hits for players such as Adams, a junior, seniors Megan Anderson and Lourdes Nichols, and sophomore Janine Godfrey. The team's one freshman, Stephanie Shrieve, played well and looks promising for future seasons.

All in all, both teams played a power game, executing terrific digs, sets, hits, blocks, and serves.

Everyone knows that the BHS varsity had a 7-1 record, which should have put us in North Coast, if it weren't for the league ruling us ineligible—they know we're awesome; they're just afraid of seeing us blow away the other league team at North Coast.

The young women of the 1984 Varsity and JV volleyball teams proved to make up two of the finest volleyball teams in the league-- in spirit, attitude and skill level. I am very proud of this 1984 Varsity team as they finished the season with a 7 - 1 record, and, more importantly, with smiles on their faces and pride in their hearts.

And speaking of pride and smiles, the Junior Varsity team proved that not only would this JV team be exciting to watch and a thrill to coach, but they would also be unbeatable-- an 8 0 season!! These young women deserve special recognition for their dedication and unity as a team which continually pulled through close matches with a victory attained by consistent and intelligent play.

I have mentioned no names of stars on either team, and purposely so. The excellence of both teams may be attributed to the depth of talent and mutual support among the players which produced a true eagerness to perform as a unit -- a strategy which proved to be both successful and fulfilling.

1. Marcus puts on a finishing kick.
2. Kevin and David relax after a race.
3. Tess runs through the woods.
4. Coach Ward discusses future race plans.

Everyone on the cross country team had his or her own way of getting psyched up before a race. Garret Lew's was bike-riding, Todd Hunter's was eating Hostess pies and listening to The Beat. Brian Vaughan tapped his feet, and Noah Kanter copied whatever Brian did. But whatever their methods were, they were surely successful.

At first coach Aaron Ward and assistant coach Keith Conning weren't even sure that there was going to be a team due to a lack of team members. Many of the girls who ran the previous year didn't return this year because they thought that the team would be different without Mr. White as coach. The girls' team had additional difficulties because Laura Maestre, who placed third in the RBAL championships, was found ineligible. Clare Burger ranked first in the RBAL's, with Catherine Payne coming in second. Among the boys, Brian Vaughan ranked first, followed by Chris Burger and Todd Hunter in that order.

The varsity team had approximately 18 members including seniors Vaughan, Ken Leonard, and Ben Nettick, and junior David Park. Coach Ward was pleased with the team, not only because of its talented runners, but also because its members' academic work is of extremely high caliber.

3. Chris Burger, Ben Turman, and Ken Leonard turn in their place markers to Coach Conning.
4. Berkeley and El Cerrito girls break from the start in a dual meet.
5. The combined 1984 cross-country team: (front row, left to right) Randall Husch, unidentified non-member, Julian Bond, Laura Maestre, Tess Golding, and Mora Golding. (Second row) Chris Burger, Josh Milburg, Noah Kanter, Todd Hunter, Garrett Lew, Michael Irschick, John Scola, Erika Watkins, Ben Turman. (back row) Coach Ward, Troy Ripsom, Marcus Guerro, Ben Nettick, Ken Leonard, Adam Keene, Richard MacDonald, Claire Burger, Marcus Grunwald, Catherine Payne, Brian Vaughan, Kevin Robinson, David Park, Nicole Marzell, Daniel Simons, John Fujioka, and Mr. Conning.

The '84 season was a disappointing one for the men's water polo team. B.H.S. fielded one of the most talented teams in the past decade, had the most players selected to the all-league team and had three players selected for all-north coast, one of whom made the second team. All-league players were Adam Ballachey, team captain Ivor Brown, Steve Wrubel, and firstyear goalie Dan Duane. Also on the starting team were junior Willie Stockard and senior Paul 'opposite-high' Hamai, as well as Phil Chabot. Paul was awarded most valuable player and Dan was awarded most improved.

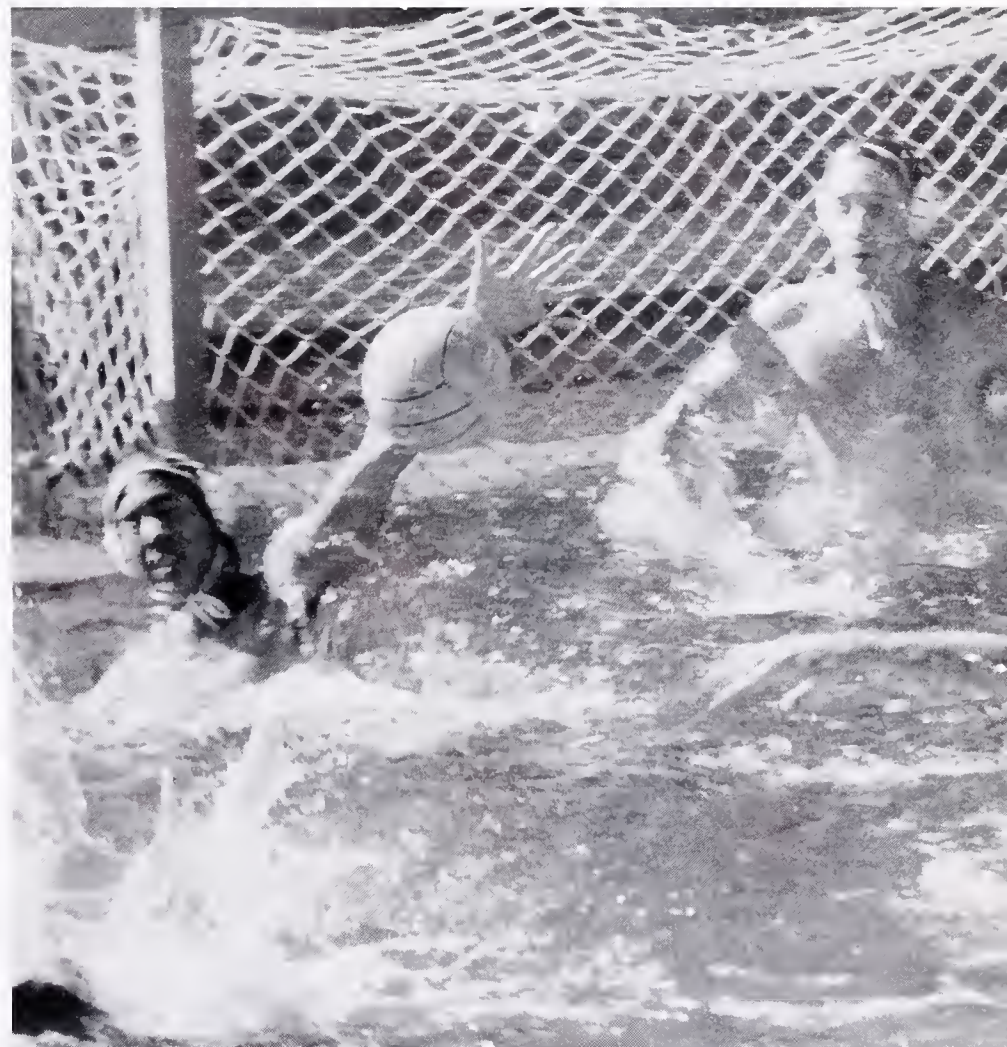

Despite this abundance of talent the team never quite fulfilled its potential. The season started strongly with B.H.S. holding a 5-3 record in tournament play and 4-1 in league play. Of these wins two were against Clayton Valley, ending a tradition of last second loses, and one was against arch-rival Alameda H.S. in their home pool. Although San Ramon proved overwhelming in regular season play Berkeley, second seeded in the league tournament, was looking to beat them at league.

6.

Focusing on the championship game Berkeley looked past Alameda in the semi-finals and lost in sudden death in the third overtime period in a heartbreaking hour and 45 minute game. This hard loss took the emotional edge out of Berkeley and the season ended on a disappointing note.

All of the hardwork that went into building the team both by alumnust coach Bill Gaebler and the players, most of whom had been together for four years produced a level of team unity rare in any sport.

1. Adam Ballachen, veteran player.

2. Bill(coach Gaebler) imparts words of wisdom.

3. The 1984 Water Polo Team: (lft. to rt.)Jeff Lipton, Steve Wrubel, Dan Duane, Adam Ballachey, Ivor Brown, Jory Blomberg, Blake Williams, Willie Stockard Paul Hamai, and Chris Wright.

4. Beefcake Steve in total control.

5. MVP Paul Hamai blocks an attempted goal while goalie Dan Duane stays ready for support.

6. Willie Stockard puts on the pressure.

WOMEN'S WATER POLO

2.

3.

1. Amanda is determined to score a goal.
2. Goalie, Jen, saves a goal and returns the ball to her teammates.
3. Polly Kraetzer passes into the whole set.

Led by senior captain Amanda Palmquist, returning for her third year of varsity action, the 1984 women's water polo team played their most ambitious schedule since 1981. Rebounding from a low of two games last year, the team splashed their way through 14 competitions, including two tournaments. Due to a lack of local opponents, the Yellowjackets travelled as far as Reno to represent BHS.

The loss of senior Kristen Stromberg due to injury half way through the season was offset by the improved play of the sophomore second year players and the first year players. These players jelled toward the end of the season, enabling the team to win three of their last four games to finish the year with a 6-8 record.

Despite the loss due to graduation of two very talented players, next year's team looks to be very strong with 13 returning players with varsity experience.

Amanda was voted the team's most valuable player for a second year in a row, with junior Molly Weeks picking up the most improved player award. The team is coached by Bill Gaebler.

1. Kristin sets a tough whole set.

SPIRIT WEEK

BOOM—BOOMBOOM—BOOMBOOMBOOM
BOOM!

"I'm gonna make you LUUV me," sang out big Ben Campbell at the homecoming pageant, which began the best and the biggest Spirit Week Berkeley High can remember! On Monday the student body donned skirts and fluorescent colors; on Tuesday we all dressed with our best friends as twins. Wednesday was crazy T-shirt and hat day, and Thursday was too tacky for words. Friday we painted Berkeley High red and gold and got hoarse parading the school and yelling out 85!!!!, 86!!!, 87!!, 88, depending on which class we were lucky enough to be in (har har).

A few years ago, clean-up was added to the competition for points to win the spirit cup. During these years, the classes put out a small effort to pick up trash, but this year surpassed anything ever done before. The real competition began on Sunday night when the juniors repainted the now studly poet on the Community Theater. Over the next two days, this enthusiasm sparked the spirit that prevailed throughout the week. After the impressive job of the juniors, the Class of '85 continued the party to clean up the hive. Their job was the most outstanding of all: Berkeley High students arrived Thursday morning to find the Community Theater, V.A.C., and press box shining with new glistening coats of paint.

About a thousand students turned out for the rally on Friday afternoon. Ms. Bennett, along with other veteran BHS teachers, agreed that the week was the most spirited ever.

THE RALLY

"We've got spirit, yes we do! We've got spirit, how 'bout you?!" At Ms. Bennett's command the cheer goes from the freshmen in the balcony, to the sophomores on the right, the juniors on the left, and most importantly to the seniors in the center section.

This year all the classes wore red and gold, waved banners and pompoms, and cheered. The Community Theater was filled with class loyalty and an electric school spirit. The junior class of '86 had special cheers and the senior class spelled out '85. Pom-pom girls and cheerleaders gave a great performance and each football player introduced himself to the sound of cheers from the appropriate class. The homecoming royalty was crowned and after tying for it last year, the SENIOR CLASS OF 1985 won the spirit cup.

The red and gold swarm celebrated in the courtyard in the October afternoon sun. More people attended the homecoming game and dance than ever before. Juice the Jacket s!

HOMECOMING ROYALTY

Despite the shortage of pantyhose and prince candidates, the 58 candidates who ran for homecoming royalty had a blast. Freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors ran for the office of prince or princess of their classes, and very brave seniors vied to become homecoming king and queen—although students from any class can run for king and queen.

1. The 1985 Homecoming Queen and King are seniors Debbie Fink and Benjamin Campbell.
 2. The Homecoming contestants. Queen and King: Kimberli Brown, Debbie Fink, Elaine Gee, Tina Jackson, Kimberly Kendall, Anna Meyer, Lucia Sykes, Floyd Baker, DeVone Boggan, Ben Campbell, Tim Hanes, Carleton Leonard, Otis Sangster, and Derrick Tolliver. Seniors: Shonna Cook, Lisa Cruz, Mandie Feusner, Abina Goncalves, Stephanie Gusters, Fiona Liskamm, Alicia Marshall, Cathy Ortiz, Jozette Polk, Ian Bain, Mike Smith, and Richard yee. Juniors: Heidi Bolstand, Yolanda James, Joanna Leonard, Christine Lukas, Tjuana Meeks, Elizabeth O'Donnell, Rhonda Ray, Brian Butler, Ian Mceldowrey, and Fred woods. Sophomores: Giulia Ferrari, Angile Hall, Yolanda Mapp, LaTanya Marble, Jenny Rhoad, Kathy Suto, John Adams, Terry LLoyd, and Michael Rideout. Freshman: Denell Archibald, Julie Christiansen, Bebecca Espinosa, Hiliary Hickman, Onika Holbert, Yolanda Littles, Kelli Preston, Carolina Santiago, Mickie Toliver, Derrick Adkins, George Labos-Simpao, and Greg Wharton.

Class of 1985 Senior Princess and Prince:
Mandie Feusner and Michael Smith.

Class of 1986 Junior Princess and Prince:
Yolanda James and Brian Butler.

On the day after the second period election, the candidates were told whether they were finalists, in the top three in their categories, but they finalists didn't find out whether they won or not until the rest of the school did, at the spirit rally. So it was really a surprise!

Ms Bennett and the homecoming committee thought up different questions to ask each of the candidates, and planned the whole pageant. In the pageant, the candidates had to answer a question each, and some of the king and queen candidates sang or danced or smoked cigarettes through their noses. For the finale, all of the candidates had to do a little dance. Everyone was very nervous but had a good time overall, and had free homecoming cake and punch—which was why they ran in the first place.

Class of 1987 Sophomore Princess and Prince:
LaTanya Marble and Terry Lloyd.

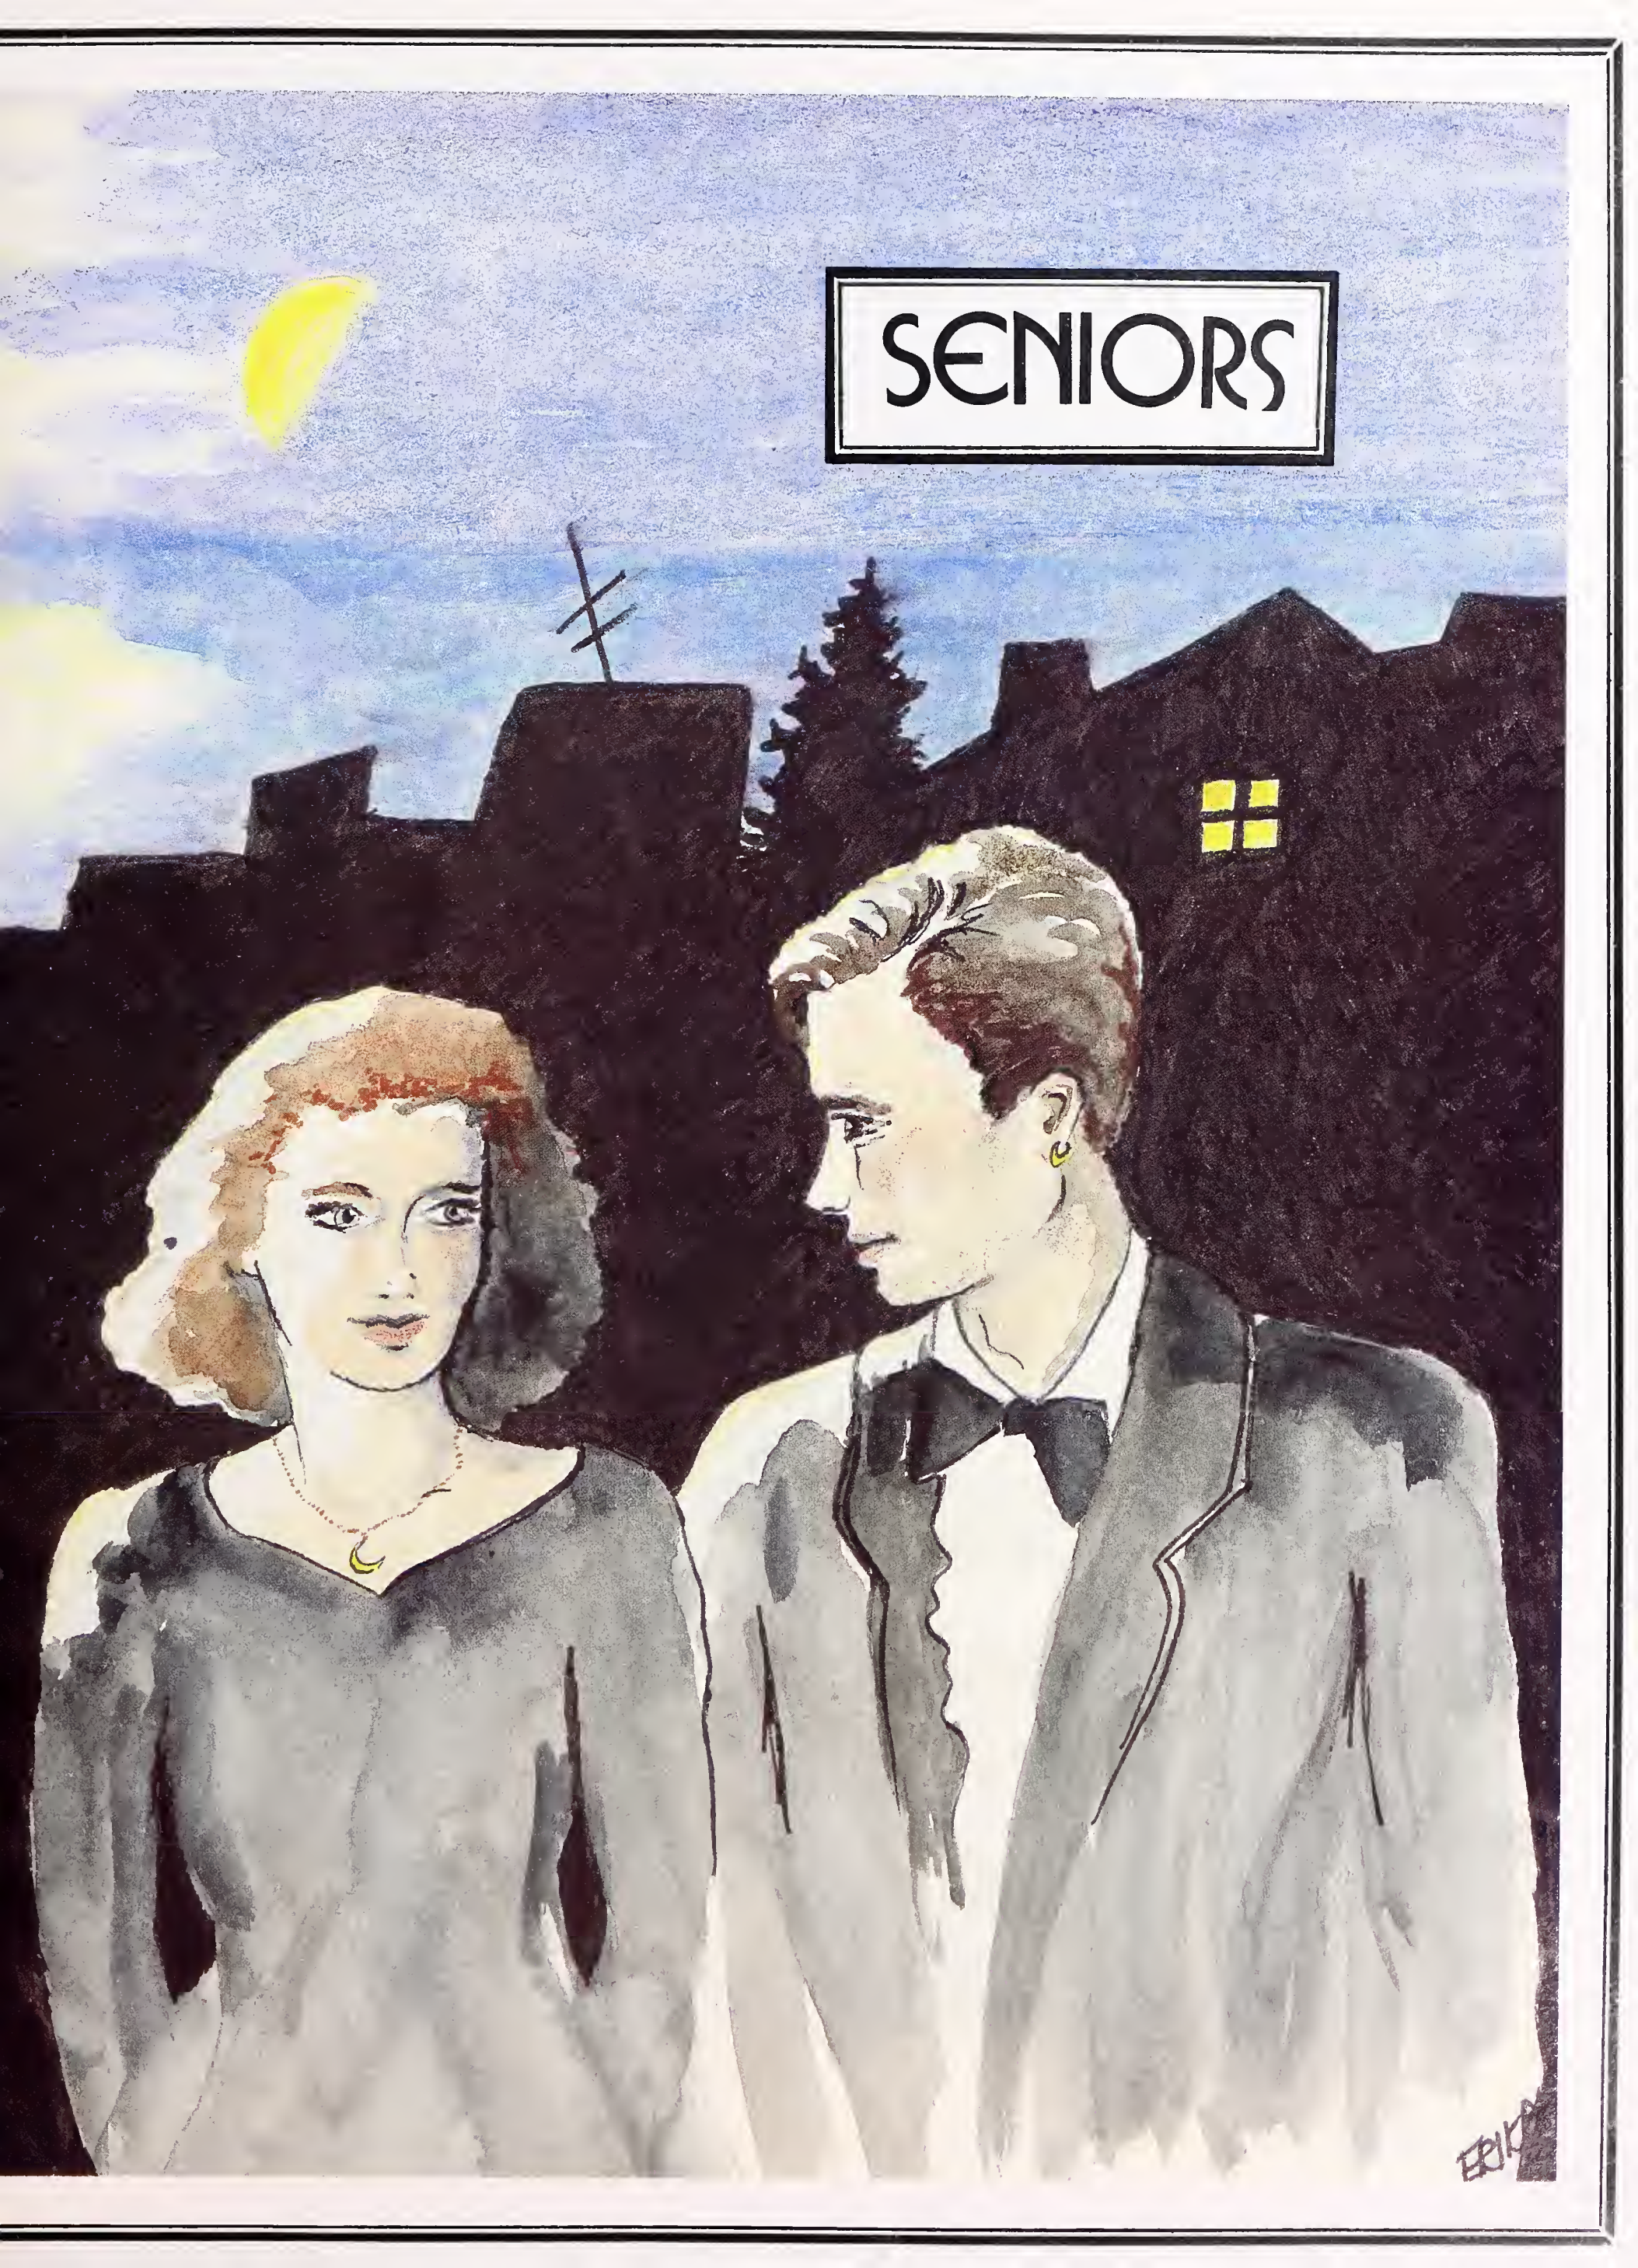

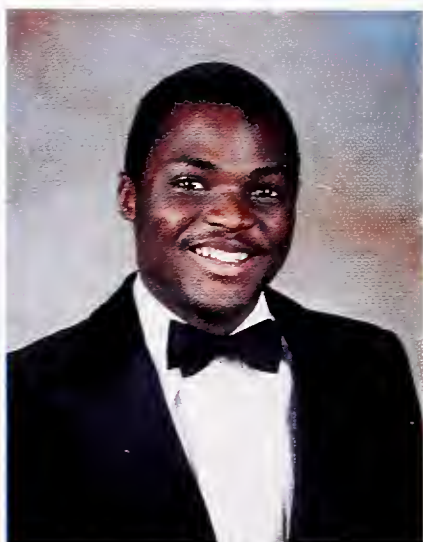

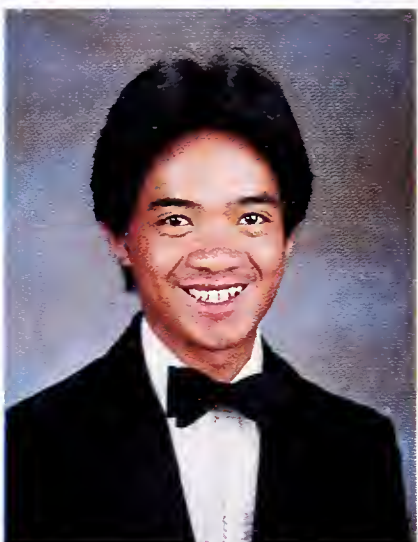

Class of 1988 Freshman Princess and Prince:

ADMINISTRATION

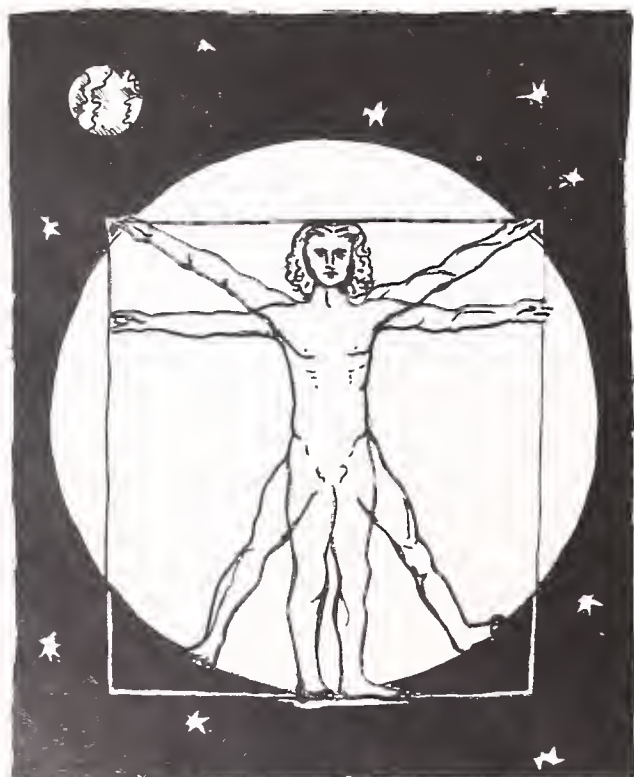

When our former principal Dr. Marlin Foxworth took an administrative post in the Oakland School district, one of the students' favorite BHS administrators took over his job. Our new principal for the 1984-1985 school year was Mrs. Samantha Lee. Mrs. Lee began at Berkeley High as a counselor, then moved on to be the Instructional Vice Principal. Her job was to maintain a quality instructional program that covered the needs of all of BHS's students. As principal, she has given us strong quiet leadership, has represented the students' views to the school board, and worked with the student government. Mrs. Lee's caring shows as she greets students in the halls or takes time for a private conference. Mrs. Lee also has an important voice in the Berkeley community. She gives BHS a sense of community and provides both hindsight and direction.

I am delighted to be part of an institution which makes possible the fulfillment of one part of a dream for students. My sincere wish is that your years at Berkeley High have given you a strong base to proceed with the rest of your lives.

I congratulate the class of 1985 on completion of one phase of your life. The class of '85 is made up of special people; I am pleased to see these people greet the world.

Samantha Lee
Principal

MR. DANIELS, VICE PRINCIPAL

Mr. Daniels, a true BHS administrative veteran, has once again spent a productive and helpful year in the labyrinthine B building, taking time out from his already heavy workload to stand around at self-scheduling. Every Berkeley High School student seems to have "had his life saved" by Mr. Daniels at some point- we thank him for all that waiting-list management and simple advice. Mr. Daniels extends his best wishes to all of you, and hopes that the class of 1985 will succeed in showering the great outside world with the same goodness, truth, and light with which it has blessed our humble campus.

MS. GROVES, VICE PRINCIPAL

With her friendly smile and sincere wish to be helpful, Susan Groves is an integral part of BHS. A favorite history teacher and former head of that department, this year she took Mrs. Lee's place as instructional vice principal. First off, she calmed the nerves of students at self-scheduling. That is the epitome of Ms. Groves: she puts the students first. Ms. Groves' responsibilities include monitoring the courses available at BHS and making sure they cover the needs of every student.

Ms. Groves wishes the class of '85 the best of luck as they graduate.

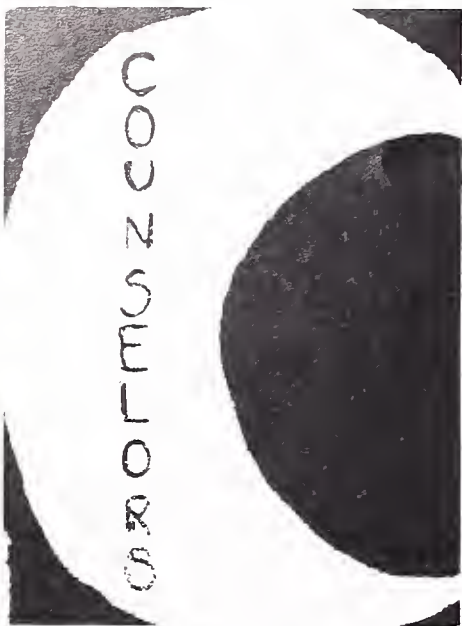

MR. TELLER, VICE PRINCIPAL

Throughout our lives, it's important for us to remember both our beginnings and our endings. As our roles of sources of knowledge and adventure proceed, I hope we'll avidly remember four of our most vital years at Berkeley High School together. Every student in Berkeley must have felt some anxiety when he or she first entered our campus, but by the time one is a senior with years of growth and experience behind, I know one feels new kinds of joy, anticipation and anxiety.

We will always remember the eagerness with which we've faced past adventures and experiences. We'll remember the feeling of triumph from our most important victory, but please, never let yourselves forget the agony of defeat.

May the future hold many future advances for all of you-

Good luck Class of 85!

Gloria Aguilar

ACADEMICS

EDITOR: DEBORAH NASS

ENGLISH

The English department is most widely known for its diversity of courses. The senior electives alone have a wide variety of choices including Children's Literature, The Bible as Literature, and the AP English course which focuses on British literature in the fall and modern American literature in the spring. In addition, the required course load is very unique and diverse. Compared across the state, BHS' English department has the most classes offered at all levels of education.

1. English is a breeze if you can survive in-class essays. . .
2. . . and spelling tests.
3. People, places and things. . . Kai, Mike, and Karin explain the mysterious Noun Syndrome.

MATHEMATICS

The mathematics dept. at BHS offers a full spectrum of classes from elementary school arithmetic through first year college calculus.

The most unique course offered at BHS is 'Introduction to ENGINEERING'. This course is for students interested in a career in engineering. Guest engineers, from various fields, lecture on their jobs and the education necessary to get a job in that field. Students are required to design and build a bridge out of balsa wood. The bridge is tested for strength and awards given to those which demonstrate the greatest strength. As far as we know Berkeley High is the only school to offer this type of course.

1. Good luck on your geometry test, everyone!
2. Jana Bartko and friends take a break during math.

HISTORY

The history department is one of Berkeley High's best. The U.S. and World History courses are quite good and there is a diverse choice of electives. The popular and widely publicized model U.S. Congress course, Politics and Power, allows students to become senators and representatives one period each day. Other good history electives include American Political Institutions, an introductory psychology course, and courses on criminal and constitutional law.

1. Senator Kennedy (Josh Luft) proposes an amendment.
2. Jeremy (Senator Nunn) heads a floor session.

2.

SCIENCE

The science department offers four courses at the college level: Anatomy / Physiology, AP Biology, AP Chemistry, and AP Physics. In addition, we offer four courses that meet the U.C Science requirements: Adv. Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and I-AC Chemistry. We also are offering two courses that meet the graduation requirements of BHS: Physical Science, and Investigating the Earth (this course is largely for 9th graders). Starting in Sept., 1985 we will offer Earth Science and Intermediate Biology. Neither of these will meet the U.C Laboratory Science requirement, but they will meet the graduation requirements.

The science dept. has four clubs: Science Club- Mr. Harvey sponser, Herpetology-Mrs. Hansen sponser, Science/Green Kingdom- Mrs. Labaos-Simpao sponser, Desert Rats- Mrs. Pensky sponser.

4.

1. Amy is disgusted with this strange substance.
2. Mr. Hubbard tests his next Rosenfeldt 'cap' on his chemistry class.
3. Bridgid Couter is engrossed in an interesting experiment.
4. Jo Leonard, future scientist.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

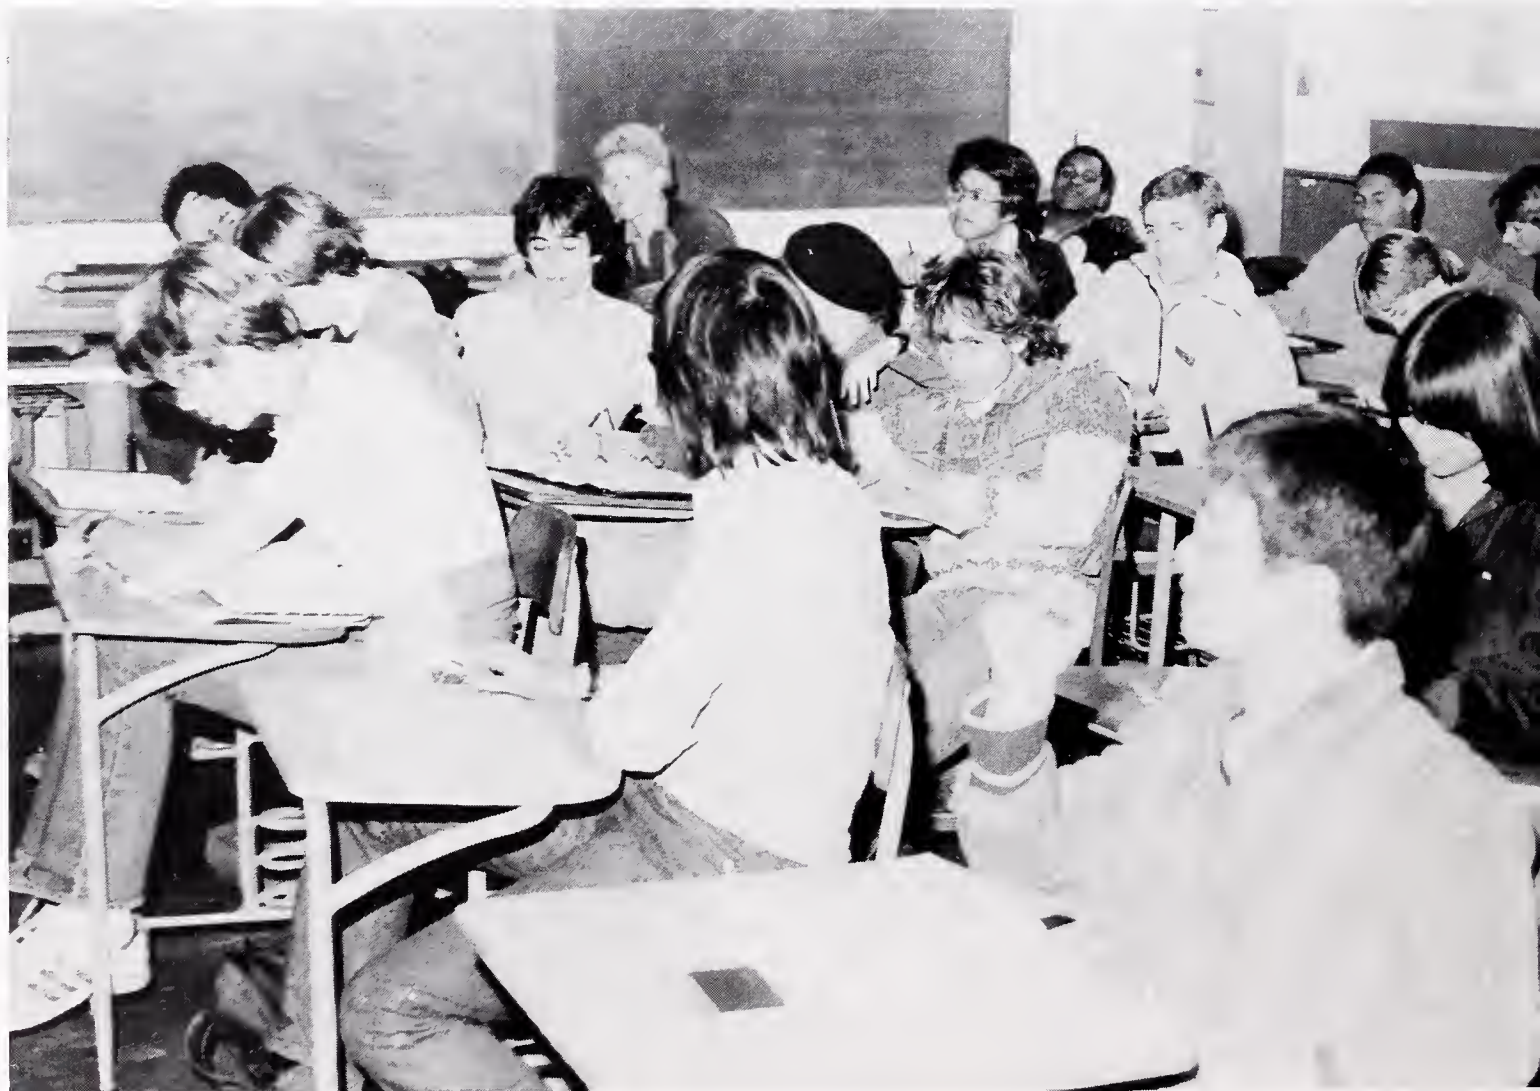

The foreign language department is a fantastic department. It is so outstanding that other high schools envy the BHS foreign language department. We offer a 5 year program in French and Spanish, a 4 year program in German and Latin; and through the Afro-American department we offer a 2 year course in Swahili. We offer an AP course in Latin, and thanks to Mrs. Mary Small the AP test scores are unusually high.

Despite the location, a crumbling building with depreciating equipment, our department is still able to produce students who are able to defend themselves in foreign countries and score well on the college board tests.

We have two brand new clubs this year.: the Spanish Club, and the French Club. We also sponser the Spanish newspaper and the French poetry magazine.

1. Let's get out of here.
2. I really don't want you to take my picture, but I don't know how to say that in French.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Department of Physical Education offers an outstanding fully co-ed P.E. program with 18 teachers and 53 courses from which students can select. New graduation requirements, affecting this year's 9th and 10th graders, include one semester of Aquatics, one semester of any sport, one semester from Dance, Gymnastics or Conditioning, and one semester of P.E. Most students choose to take additional classes beyond graduation requirements.

1. Dancers stretch in the morning sunlight of Marcia Singman's studio in the gym. Dance is one of the most popular P.E./Performing Arts courses.

2. Jumping Jacks next to the B.Q.C.

3. Laps are required in conditioning as well as introductory P.E. classes.

AFRICAN-AMERICAN STUDIES

The Department of African-American studies is not just for the black student as most would think. The classes offered within the department, such as Swahili, are for everyone. Exposure to these classes is encouraged.

1. The Swahili class
2. I'll smile after school.

ARTS, INDUSTRY, & DESIGN

This department, which occupies most of the first and second floors of the G-Building offers a variety of classes in fine and practical arts, some of which are illustrated here. Top, art metal; center, wood shop; bottom left, pottery; and bottom right, mechanical drawing. The class offerings include graphic arts, photography, machine shop, and auto mechanics.

HOME ECONOMICS & FAMILY LIFE

The Home Economics/Family Life department offers classes for students to improve their social skills. Courses such as Consumer Foods and Clothing prepare students for bargain purchasing and courses such as Infant Care and Social Living enhance students' abilities to deal with their peers and the general public.

1. Nancy amazes her social living class when she tells them that "This is a trombone. Don't play it in class."
2. Cooking with cornmeal can be fun!!!!

BUSINESS EDUCATION

Accounting - a professional course that introduces the student to the basic ing principles and procedures. A realistic accounting experience is obtained by the use of simulations.

Automated Office - introduces students in various areas with practical hands on experience in word processing and use of their business application programs.

Business Consumer Law this course enables the student to know their legal rights and obligations regardless of their future plans. Such as minor rights; price deceptions and eighteen year old rights.

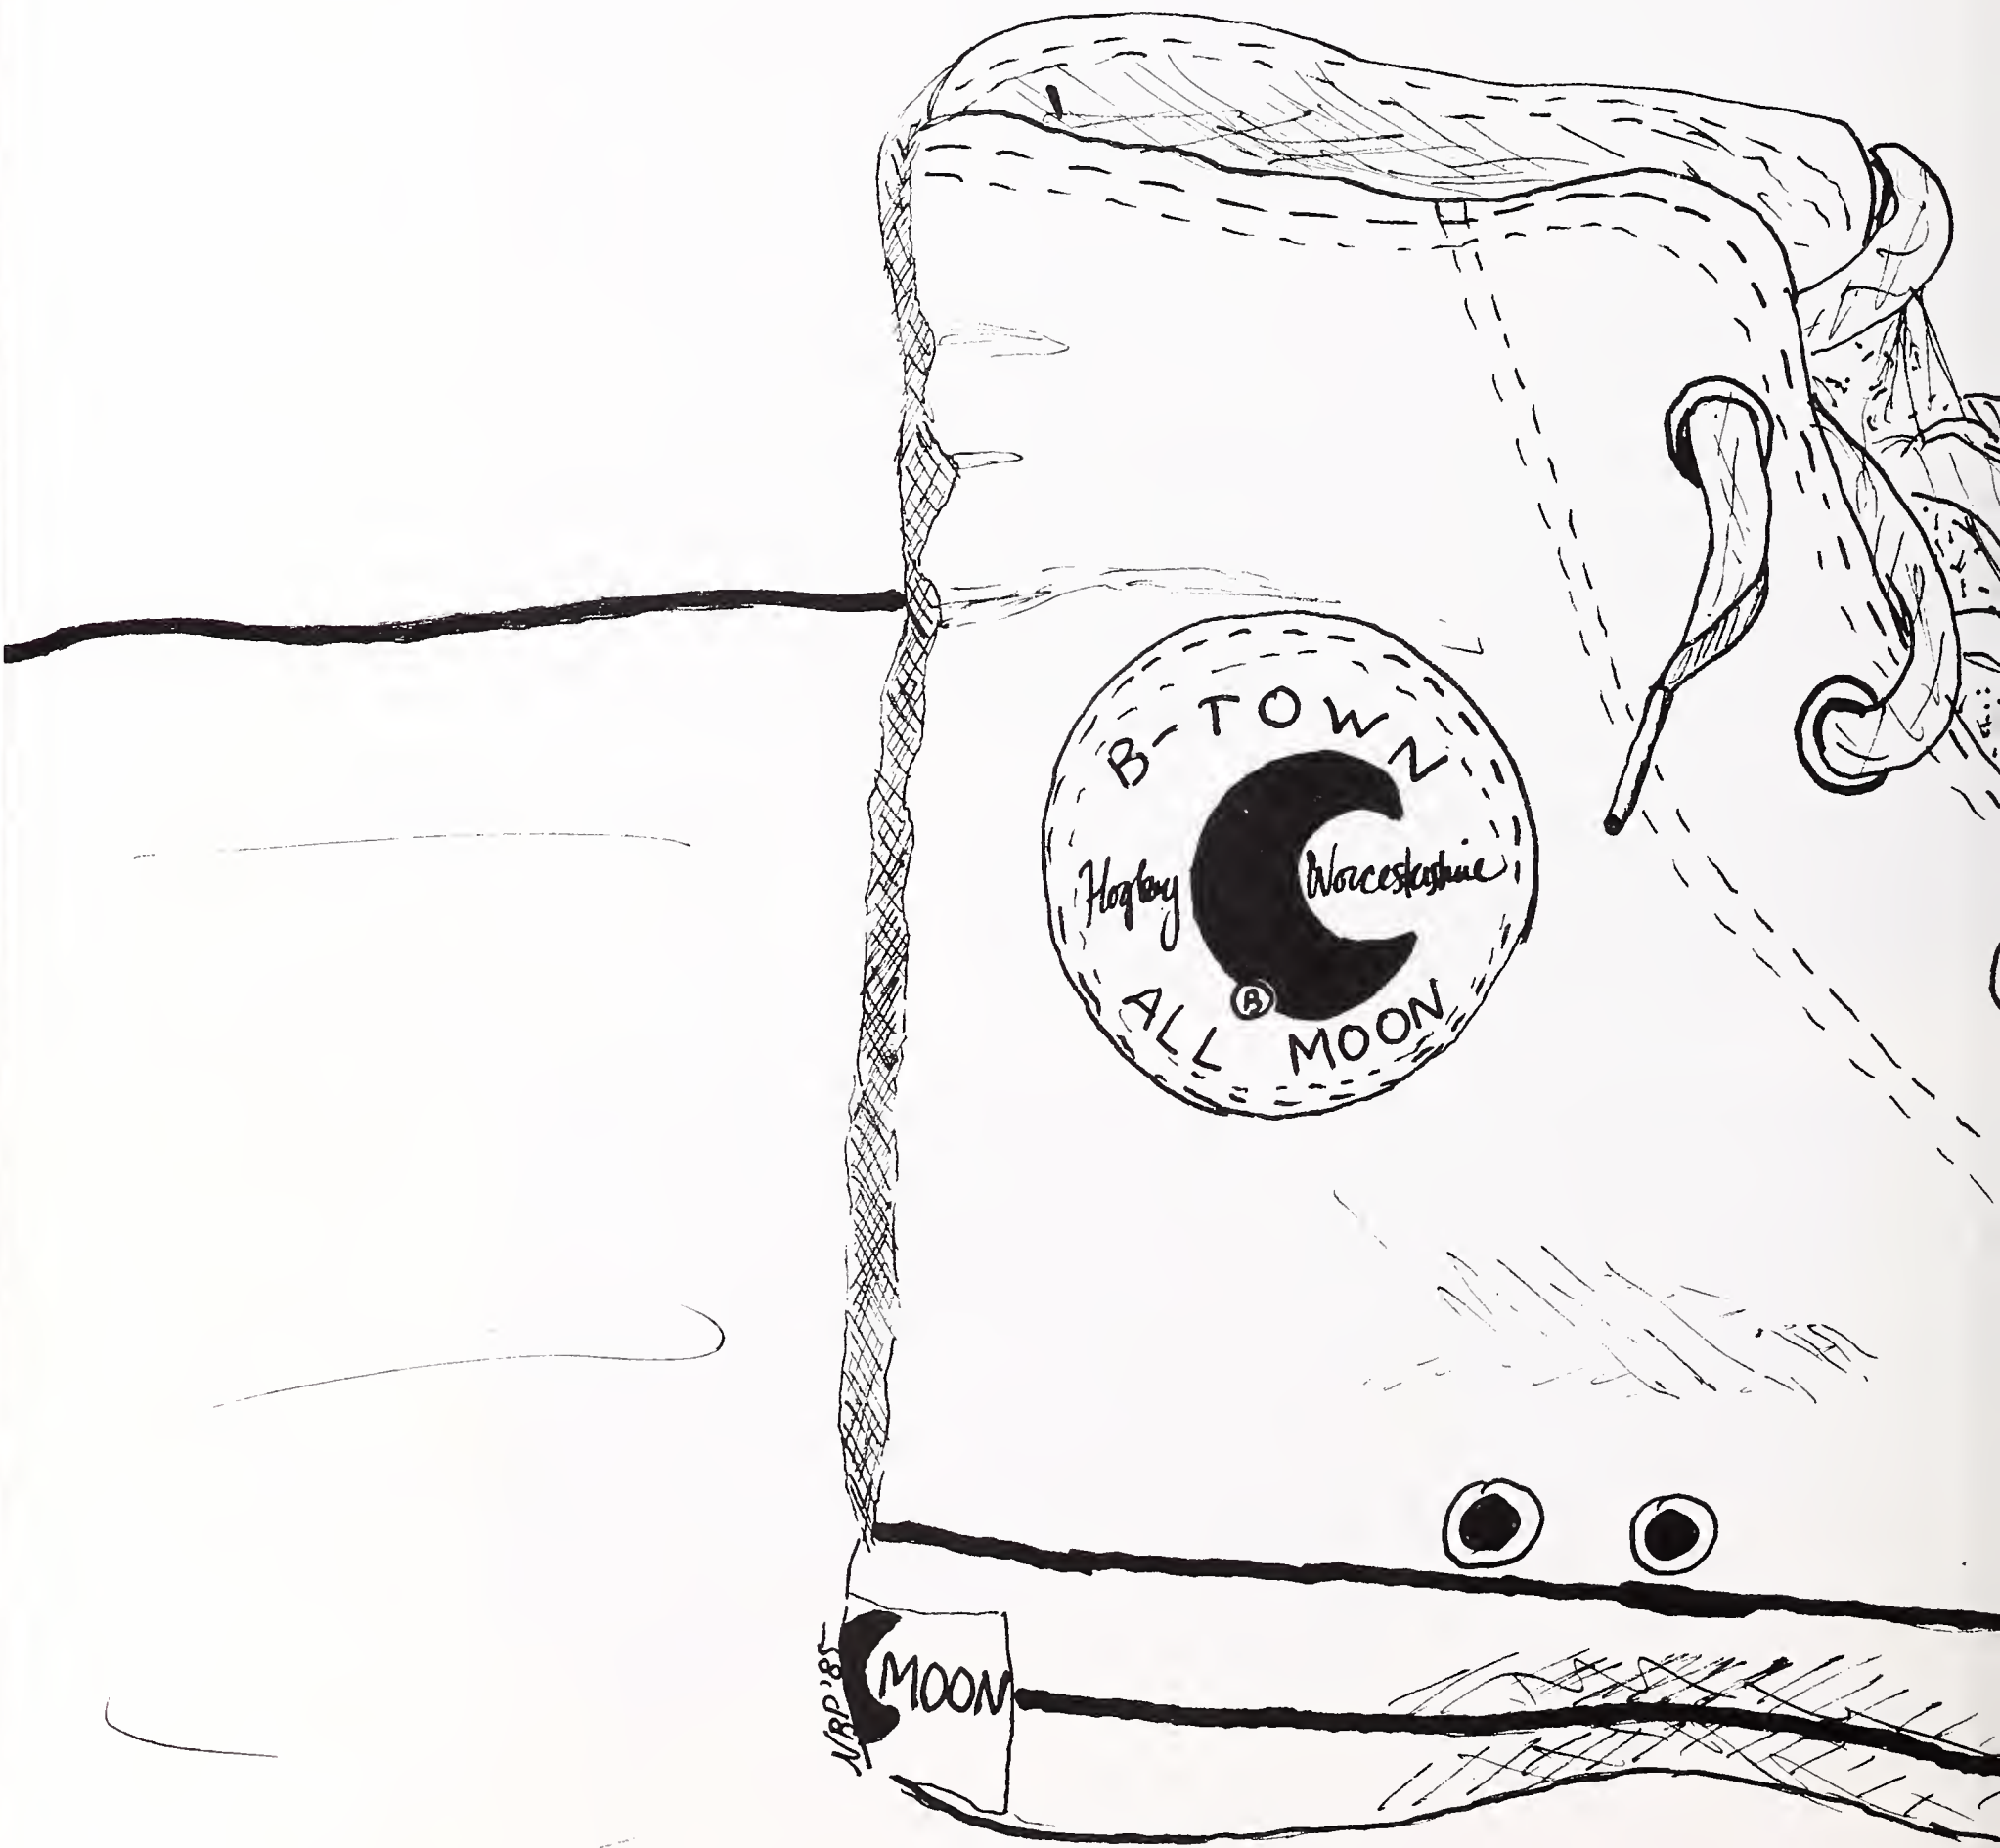

The computer science dept. offers courses in computer awareness, computer applications, and computer languages with and emphasis on programming style.

Notehand designed for college bound 11th and 12th graders only. This class is for students who want a faster method of notetaking or to improve their present method.

Shorthand - the students will learn the completed Greegg system of shorthand. This course is for students who plan to become stengragers in the business world.

Typing—offers different levels of typing skills for all students, for those who just want to type letters or for those who are training to be secretaries.

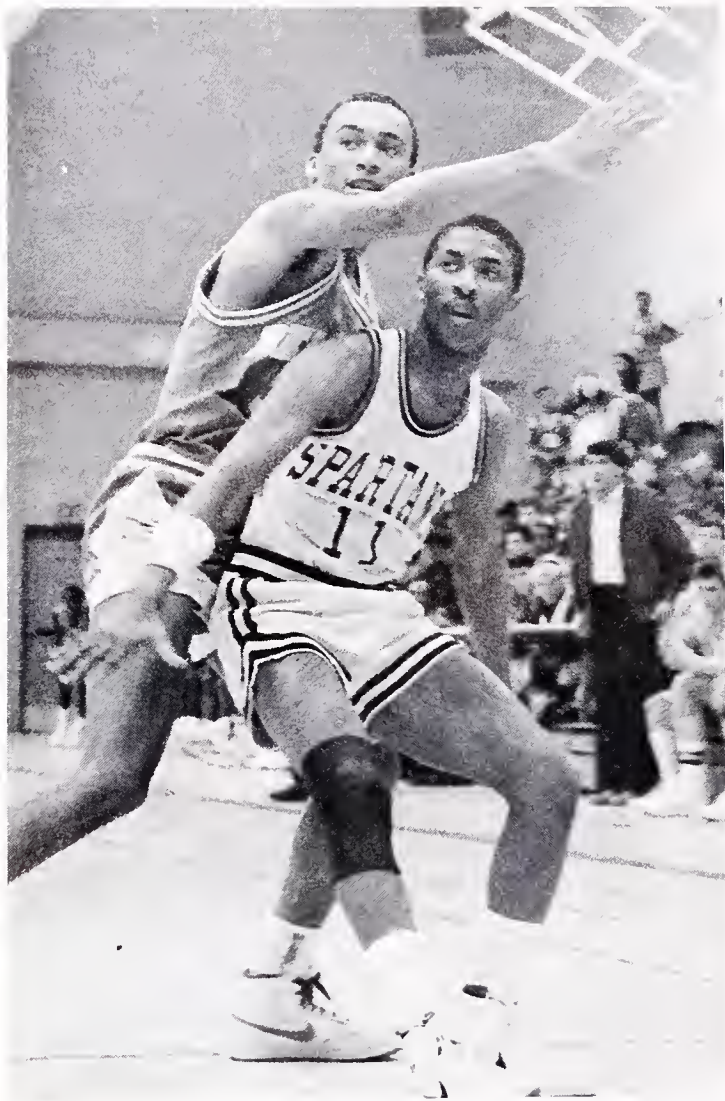

1. Elaine eats lunch in typing.
2. School's out.
3. This is a great paper.

SPRING SPORTS

1. MVP Terry Burns pressures the inbounds pass.
2. The league champion BHS Yellowjackets, back row, left to right, Dwayne Oliver*, Ben Campbell*, Anton Walker, Terry Burns, Troy Vann, and Brad Hart (most improved). Middle row, assistant coach Marvin Buckley, Darron Minor, Darren Boyden, Richard Stroud, Spencer Stevens, Donald Nobles*, Luther Couch*, and Coach Stelton Mitchell. Front row, Lonnie Remler, Henry Whitmore, Rico Bayless, Myron Preston*, and Chris Daniels. (*seniors)
3. Anton Walker finds his shot blocked by Pinole's 6'11" Greg Senior.
4. The bench celebrates the first victory over last year's champs, Pinole Valley.
5. Finding his way to the basket blocked, Myron Preston looks for a teammate to pass to.
6. Troy Vann lays a shot up over Senior.
7. Henry Whitmore scoots past the Kennedy front line as Don Nobles moves in for the rebound.

MEN'S VARSITY BASKETBALL

They weren't really expected to go anywhere this year: most of last year's squad had graduated and that was a team which had failed to qualify for the league tournament. But the 1984-85 Jacket hoopsters fooled the experts: after a good but not great pre-season, the team put it together and played well enough to finish second in the league round-robin. They breezed through the league tournament, defeating El Cerrito, last year's champions Pinole Valley, and in the playoff, the round-robin champion De Anza Dons. They were league champions and North Coast-bound in what was supposed to be a rebuilding year.

And now the good news: only five members of the championship squad are graduating, and of these, only forward Donald Nobles was a starter—and he was replaced by junior Spencer Stevens in the league tournament. Returning along with Stevens are the team's most valuable player, all-league selection Terry Burns, who plays either guard or forward; the most valuable player in the league tournament, guard Henry Whitmore, a second team all-league choice (along with Nobles); forward Troy Vann, and center Anton Walker. And these are only the starters.

Another bit of good news: all the other league teams will be hurt by graduation, with El Cerrito, Pinole Valley, and De Anza all losing their key players, dominating centers Calvin Andrews, Greg Senior, and Ricky Oliver, respectively, the last having been named the league's most valuable player.

The future continues to look good for Jacket basketball, if this year's Frosh-Soph team's performance means anything. The team, coached by former Jacket star Marvin Buckley, won all but three of their pre-season games, then rolled over their league competition, 8-0.

WOMEN'S VARSITY

The first day of Basketball practice Varsity coach Gene Nakamura and JV coach Ricky Caldwell were pleasantly surprised to see over fifty-five girls at tryouts. Enthusiasm continued as the teams were trimmed down to eighteen on the JV and twelve on the Varsity. Coach Caldwell's JV squad showed their lack of experience during the early season but developed rapidly to play some good team basketball at seasons end. The Varsity squad returned All-league forward DeRhonda Haynes, center LaCole Brooks, and forwards Keiko Steimetz and Tammi Parker from the Championship 83-84 team. JV standouts Nina Andres and Angelique Tolliver were moved up to Varsity level and newcomers Vergina Gumbs, Rita Pope, Alyssa Nicholls, Karen Wichne, and Denise Dotson completed the solid team. Playing a tough pre-season schedule the girls team culminated preparation for league play with a championship in the Mills Classic in Millbrae. LaCole Brooks earned all star honors and DeRhonda Haynes swept the MVP award. League play saw the girls work hard for a 6-2 record and second place in the R.B.A.L. Looking to the future makes coach Nakamura smile as he will see the return of promising future standouts Denise Dotson, Nina Andres, Karen Wichner, Angelique Tolliver, Allyssa Nicholls and Stephanie Stevens.

Both Berkeley teams survived the first round of the tournament with two-point victories; the boys, 50-48 over De LaSalle, and the girls, in the tournament as at large choices, 56-54 over Clayton Valley then both teams lost by 21 points in the second round; the boys 70-91 to eventual state runners up, Logan, and the girls to Moreau. Henry Whitmore was named to the All-Tournament Team for the boys, and DeRhonda Haynes for the girls.

MEN'S SOCCER

The Men's Soccer Team, coached by John Miottel, fared very well this year. They held a combined pre-season and league record of 9-2-2. They won a hard fought grudge-match against Piedmont for the last game of the season with a score of 1-0. Piedmont barely edged Berkeley out to attain a first-place standing and go to the North Coast Sectionals, as they were undefeated besides a loss and a tie against Berkeley. Our outstanding season can be attributed to strong players. The team, this year, was led by team captains David Ultan and Yotam Nitsan. Important contributions were made by Chad Lewis, Chuy Hernandez, Tony Lozano, Nico Zimmerman

Buddy Greer, Vic Namuche, Jesus Martinez, and Robert Young. The team wishes to thank all the fans for their support, special thanks, and the best of luck go to graduating seniors. The team looks forward to an even more successful season next year.

This season has proven to be the B.H.S. Women's Soccer Team's best. We moved from 3rd to 2nd place this year with a 7-2 record, including a tie score against four-year rival Carondelet, 3-3. They also beat last year's 2nd place team (Moreau) in league play, 6-3. BHS players for the 1984-85 season were Goalie, Kay McGill, Fullback Line, Anne Schwartzburg, Vittoria DiPalma, and team captains Akemi Hamai and Shawna Peterson (Hubba). Help also came from this year's outstanding Center-Midfielder Ann Kletz. Other defenders helping our defense were Toby Bielawski, Georgia Schreiber, and April Westbrook (Bubba). Our Midfielders were Alex Gorin, Lisa Hughes, Nicole Joiner, Sara Nelson, Becca Ratcliff, and Heidi Ronfeldt. This year's very strong forward line was Nicole and Colette Bowler, Mandie Feusner, and Julia Ficht. Also helping was Lorena Cachero. This season was not without injuries. Despite Nicole Joyner's pre-season knee injury and Sara Nelson's two sprained ankles, these players contributed a great deal to the team's spirit. The team worked very well together and the pot-lucks and team activities were great events the whole team enjoyed. First year (at BHS) coach Deborah Vance is very proud of her team's past season and optimistic about the team's future. Although we are losing eight great starting players this year, she is still confident that the enthusiasm and great team effort shown this year has set a precedent for B.H.S. Women's Soccer in the future. Special thanks to Helen Keohane who coached B.H.S. Women's Soccer Team for the previous three years. She has helped to create the standard of excellence that prevailed this year. LETS GO CAMPING!!!!

It is what is sometimes called a 'rebuilding' season for the BHS wrestling team—they won one match, lost eight and tied one to finish in a tie for last place in league competition. In the league tournament they did a bit better, finishing sixth out of eight teams as Doug Klinman won his weight division and headed on to the North Coast Tournament, and Alfonso Eddington took second in his class. Among the others Juan Vasquez and Dennis Clark also finished the season with winning records. Coach Randy Takahashi is optimistic about next year, as the 1985 squad was composed of seven juniors, one sophomore, two freshmen, and no seniors. Next season's team could be especially good if members continue to gain experience in free style competitions and if some go to summer wrestling camps.

In the past, Berkeley High's Track and Field Team has had runners who have set long standing records and have taken home many awards. Time passed, however, and colleges all over the country swept Berkeley's runners away. This year, Berkeley's young team, under the coaching of Aaron Ward and Keith Conning has had to live up to this reputation, which is a lot to ask of a team with a new coaching staff and new members. The team survived, however, and often came out on top. By early April, 3 out of 4 duel meets had been won by Berkeley. The team, however, had not at this point had good luck at the relays. Berkeley had two main objectives this year: to push the Seniors and Juniors to their limit, and to develop the skills of the Freshmen and Sophomores in order to keep the great reputation in future years. Senior runners such as Brian Vaughn, Anthony Usher, and Daron Minor continued their streak of excellence constantly scoring points for the team. But it was not one or two runners who took credit for the group's success. The team as a whole worked hard at 7:00am every morning (often including holidays) to work up to where it once was. The team has a promising future and looks forward to a great season.

MEN'S TENNIS

8.

The 1985 Berkeley High Men's Tennis Team is looking forward to a winning season. So far the team has had to overcome some major obstacles coming in the form of strong opposition and inner team conflicts. At the beginning of the season the team was off to a 2-1 start coming off of routs with Bishop O'Dowd High School(7-0) and Campolindo High(6-3). The team suffered a heart breaking loss to Monte Vista, possibly the best team in Northern California(3-4). Berkeley seems to be the odds-on favorite for the league title this year , as it usually is. This year's team is full of young players, but is in no way lacking in talent or depth. The number one position is held easily by Adam Fiore. Number two is Bang Le, a surprising sophomore. At the number three position is Kimon Cambour, a freshman and at number four is John Chinn. Number five is held by a freshman, David Roberts and at number six is Thor Schreck. The doubles are probably the strongest in years. At number one are the team of Tom Graber and Mike Schragg and close behind are Jory Blomberg and Franz Lozano. The number three team is Steve Lee-Alex Lubin. Because of the loss of some very talented players early in the season the team lost some strength, but it has pulled itself together under the inspirational coaching of Mr. Bragg.

FENCING

In its 11th season under Coach Jean Gregerson, the Berkeley High Fencing Team got off to a rousing start with an 8-1 victory over Balboa High School. A member of the AAA league, Berkeley is the only high school outside of San Francisco to be invited to join the weekly competition with eight other high schools, and the final gruelling three day Individuals Tournament featuring the top three fencers from each high school. Since 1974 when it joined the league, Berkeley won the Individuals in 1976, and has consistently ranked in the top three winning first place twice, tying for first place three times, placing second four times, and third once. At press time, the season is unfinished, but indicators point to another banner year.

BADMINTON

The 1985 B.H.S. Badminton team is once again off to a fast start, winning its first five meets on its way to a 5-0 record. The team is a mixture of some returning players and a large number of new players. Coach Ms. Anderson is confident that the team can do very well this year, possibly surpassing last year's 11-2 record. There is no RBAL League for the team this year, so the top players will automatically gain a berth in the North Coast Sectionals. There is a lot of competition on this year's team for all the available positions.

The top Men's singles team is Randy Parker, Tung Tran, and Jung Sun. The top Women's singles include April Lee, Pui, and April Westbrook. The Men's doubles teams consist of Gordon Katz-Milton Toy, and James Ding-Jim Wong, while the Women's doubles teams are Karen Ng-Lam, and Melanie-Lilly. The three mixed doubles teams are Bert-Betty, Benny-Chrissie, and Kent Huang-Julie Yamashiro. Ms. Anderson and all the players are planning on having a successful year, and hopefully winning some awards at North Coast.

GYMNASTICS

The Women's Gymnastics Team, with the help of returning coach Deborah Counsell, is looking forward to a promising season with a strong predominantly underclassmen team.

The JV gymnasts compete in the class 4 compulsory routines on each of the four events. Our JV gymnasts are Jenny Austin, Nico Smith, Janie Dalton, and Aimee Ross-Gibson. They show great promise and performed well in our first meet.

Varsity is divided into two sections, class 3 compulsories and optionals. Our class 3 gymnasts are Michelle Bayab, Eva Graburn, Amy Gruber, and Hendrickye Nadeau. These four gymnasts, with a little more experience than the class 4's, are competing well. Optionals are quite different from compulsories; each gymnast is required to choreograph a routine designed to fit her personality on each of the events with only a little help from the coach and team captain Laura Leventer. All of our four optional gymnasts, Ursula Boynton, Sara Teegarden, Jenny Farnsworth, and Laura Leventer are excellent, especially in competition.

VARSITY BASEBALL

The BHS 1985 Varsity Baseball Team has a league record of 1-1 so far, and although coach Plumpsie Green's quote for the team is, 'If we play to our fullest capacities we should do okay,' the team should do much better than, 'okay.' Some outstanding players are Ron Herbert, and Mike Younger who are seniors and returning underclassmen Nick Lauror and Clarence Bailey. However the team could not owe its successes to only a few individuals, and the entire team is congratulated.

FROSH/SOPH BASEBALL

The BHS Frosh/Soph Baseball Team, under coach Chico Mendoza is working pretty good this year, with a record to date of 7-4. The best prospects for varsity are pitcher Greg Richey, center fielder David Cober, second baseban Sam Romaro, and left-fielder Dante Williams. The many energetic players will contribute to a successful season this year.

This years varsity softball team is a group of determined hard working enthusiasts. At press the Jackets record in league play was 0-3, but as coach Carey would have us say we've yet to be beaten. With a sense of teamwork firmly instilled within us, we forge ahead. The team would not be possible without the individual effort of each player. Steady pitcher Mary Daughtry provides comic relief with her patened cat-snatch slides. Right field is shared by Priscilla Jennings and Crystal Johnson, Jane 'Nice Shot' Bond owns center, and Ms. Athletic '85 Akemi Hamai works left field. Alternating at catcher are Naomi Nishimoto and Nicole, at first Cindy Adams and Sarah 'is she talking to herself again?' Schubart. Marla Davis returns to her reign of second, 'Lady Aragon' herself Allison Johnson is shortstop and Smilin' Sabrina Spellman holds third. Special thanks to Coaches Carey and Anderson for all their help and support and to score-keeper Yvette Davis.

The JV Softball team has not won any games to date but their cheerful spirit promises to hold them together throughout the season, successful or not. Hopefully this year will give them the practice to make a great team next year. At first base is Antoinette Williams and holding second is Dawana Williams. Allysa Nicholls manages third base, Dana Hodge is shortstop, while right and left fields are played by Twanisha Robinson and Erica Smith respectively. Lastly at center is Brandy.

The 1985 Men's Swim Team has the largest amount of talent that Berkeley aquatics has seen in years. After graduating only three seniors from last years squad this year's team has many returning varsity lettermen as well as a surplus of new talent. It seems that the team has no weak spots with returning senior sensation Jeff Orenstein and Eric Dolven dominating the distance freestyle events; Steve Wrubel and Willy Stockard in the sprint freestyle events; and Brendan Byrne, Ethan Scheiner, Adam Ballachey, and Brian Nabeta handling the stroke events. In addition to these standouts the team expects solid performances out of returning swimmers such as co-team captains Paul Hamai and Ivor Brown, as well as Mark Mendonea, Aaron Cozen and Ken Leonard. With the wealth of talent the team has this year Coach Bill Geabler has high hopes of going undefeated in the dual meets season, avenging last years loss to Pinole Valley, and re-establishing Berkeley as R.B.A.L. league champions.

About the Berkeley High Women's Swim Team!!

The 55 swimmers and divers of this year's team form one of the largest teams of recent years. In addition to its depth the team has overall strength in every event. The team's best feature is the outstanding dedication, enthusiasm, and effort demonstrated by all: two hours of intense practice ing at six a.m. !!Daily!! This hard work has paid off as most have already swum times that bettered their last season's best and the team's record assures a winning season.

The Berkeley High Men's Crew Team after finishing second in the California Championships to its arch-rivals, Redwood Crew, appears poised for revenge this year. First-year coach Ted Swinford, who rowed for the Cal varsity squad only a few years ago, has emphasized endurance this year, and the strategy appears to be succeeding. Berkeley won their first race of the year, a 2.2 miler against Los Gatos and Pacific rowing clubs by an impressive ten lengths. In a Saturday morning workout/race against defending national champion Redwood Crew and the Cal Freshmen and Lightweight boats, the Jackets won four of the pieces, compared to two for Redwood, two for the Freshmen, and one for the Lightweights. The team's relationship with the school which has been slightly antagonistic over the past few years, has also improved considerably this year. The school bought the team a new set of oars, which they were sorely in need of, and now that the team has equipment equal to those of their competitors, they will be even tougher to beat. Many of the team's best rowers will be back next year, as well, so it appears that Berkeley High may be seeing the beginning of a rowing dynasty.

WOMEN'S CREW

Although the season got off to a slow start, following a change in coaching staff, the Berkeley High Women's Crew team is confident that the season will go well. Kathy Moiller, the coach for the past three years, was replaced by Sue Dougherty in December. The team has begun training hard in preparation for the San Diego Crew Classic which peaks the season. Running stadium stairs and the Fire Trail, in addition to the morning workouts at Lake Merritt are some of the things which keep the girls busy.

They ought to be strong enough to defend the title they held down there for the past two years, and this year's competition will be tough. Also, the race length has doubled from 1000 to 2000 meters, adding a new challenge. The four Bay Area teams that BHS races are the Oakland Strokes, Pacific Rowing Club, Los Gatos Rowing Club, and Marin Rowing Club; all of which will be tough to beat this season. Fundraising is not as extensive this year, as the team plans to stay home for Nationals.

PERFORMING ARTS

ERIKA

EDITOR:
ELIZABETH WARDEN

It's amazing when you think about it. Funds are diminishing, and education is focussing on the academic basics. Yet, BHS can boast a brand new marching band, an award-winning jazz ensemble, a first-rate orchestra, dramatic productions that surpass the quality of many college and semi-pro theatres, a rich dance program, and a fine chorale. What makes the performing arts at BHS so strong? This may be one of those questions such as "How are you?" that is better left unanswered; but I'm going to try.

First credit, of course, has to go to our talented and energetic students as well as to the parents who provide all those dance, music, and voice lessons. They head the list of people who make Berkeley a special place for the arts. They head the list, but the list is long. Such things don't happen in a week after all. There's a history here. Add such names as Florence Schwimley (she of the little theatre) who, in her twenty-nine years here built a tradition of excellence in and community support for theatre that is still making things possible for us twenty years after her retirement. Her successor, Jay Manley, also belongs on the list. He "dared" to produce Shakespeare with high school students and he introduced such innovations as preview day, student-directed plays, and a costume production class.

The choral and instrumental faculty rolls are full of names many students would not recognize today. However, without the drive for excellence that such teachers as Lutt, Pearson, Hardyman, Haynes, and Hardester possessed, the atmosphere could not nourish the idea that nothing less than our best is good enough.

It took more, though, than exceptional parents, students, and teachers to create the artistic climate we enjoy around here. I don't know who sat down forty or more years ago and decided it would be a good idea for the city and the school district to get together and build a theatre or two. I do know, however, that all the best efforts of staff and students alike wouldn't be nearly as productive if we had to operate in the hideous cafeteriums that most high school performers are stuck with.

Also deserving of mention are several generations of administrators and school board members who, despite my contention that we don't get nearly enough, have made the arts enough of a priority to keep us alive and even healthy.

Somewhere, then, in that combination of community and administrative support, a long history of achievement, fine students and faculty, and superior facilities I think there's an explanation of Berkeley High's artistic success. We can talk about it more if you like; but I'd rather do it than discuss it. I think we're all so fortunate to be participating in such a rich tradition, that we shouldn't miss a moment of the experience. So, watch the bulletin for the next auditions. In the mea time, I have a rehearsal to get to; so, if you'll excuse me, I'll see you all later.

THE THREEPENNY OPERA

In the fall of 1984, B.H.S.'s Performing Arts Department took under an overwhelming project, The Threepenny Opera, and ended up with an incredible production. It was a story of crime, passion, and poverty involving the lowest of the low in Soho, London. The show centered around Mack-the-Knife(Aaron Davidman), his two wives, Lucy Brown(Becki Fink) and Polly Peachum(Leah Fitschen), Polly's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peachum (Peter Foley and Rachel Magid), and Mackie's whore, Jenny Diver(Erica Wilson).

1. Mr. Peachum(Peter Foley) impresses on Filch (Tim Haynes) the importance of not eating.
2. Two beggars prove that poverty doesn't pay. (Elke Glendenning and Jennifer Holmes)
3. "Who knows how to make love stay?"(Aaron Davidman and Leah Fitschen)

ADVANCED THEATRE

PROJECTS

Each year, the Performing Arts Department sponsors an evening of Advanced Theatre Projects, one act plays directed by seniors. This year five students asked to direct and the Department was forced to have two programs of ATP's instead of the usual one. Because of the time constraints, everyone was at each other's throats, from the actors to the esteemed Department Chair. Finally, on the weekend of Jan. 30-Feb. 3 the five shows played to standing room only houses and were held over for extra performances the next week. A good time was had by all, despite themselves.

The first program was composed of two plays by Harold Pinter, THE LOVER and A SLIGHT ACHE, directed respectively by Aaron Davidman and Amy Bomse. The second program was a little more diverse: HOP-SCOTCH, by Israel Horowitz; CALM DOWN, MOTHER, by Megan Terry; and Woody Allen's GOD: A PLAY. They were directed by Jennifer Kaufman, Chloe Stamas, and Shawn Roberts, respectively.

1. How many times do I have to tell you not to bring your box in the house? (Josh Leavitt and Marcus Brooks)
2. "Star light, star bright, first star I see tonight..." (Mike Ordon and Susanah Iwase)

THE DINING ROOM

This year's spring drama production was the tragicomic play, "The Dining Room." A sort of schizophrenic soap opera in eighteen acts, "The Dining Room" traced the history of a particular dining room through many generations and time periods, and examined how this dining room contributed to the deterioration and collapse of the "American Family."

Under the able directorship of Diane McDonald, this rather jumbled piece of drama came together and evolved into a well-rounded and enjoyable production. Banner performances were given by Peter Foley, as an uptight and strict 40's father, Shana Berger as a promiscuous lesbian woman, Shawn Roberts as her shocked father, Aaron Davidman as a senile grandfather, and Samantha King as a harried mother and frequent adultress.

The play was performed by Paul Bemesserfer, Shana Berger, Devin Binder, Erika Bunnin, Erik Burns, Tim Carroll, Amy Cook, Aaron Davidman, Becky Fink, Debbie Fink, Peter Foley, Lilly Goodman, Jennifer Holmes, Miranda Holms, Susanah Iwase, Rachel Jones, Samantha King, Ken Kokka, Alex Marcus, Steve McCall, Amy Nellis, Chet Nelson, Nicole O'Hay, Michael Pendleton, Shawn Roberts, Dennis Schrag, Zoe Sharpe, and Kim Todd. They received rave reviews from the community at large. Said Siskel and Ebert of the play, "We gave it a thumbs up!"

With the graduation of 5 seniors, three of which were section leaders, the '84-'85 Jazz Band, under the direction of Chuck Hamilton, were unsure of their ability to maintain the high standards of previous years. However, by the end of the first month of painful rehearsals, things sounded promising. All of the hard work paid off at the Redwood Empire Jazz Festival in Sonoma where the band won for the 8th consecutive year. (It was also here that the combo of David Ellis, Ben Ball, Stefano DeZerega, and Mat Bernstein took third place in a highly contested area, with Ben and David alternating on the drums.) Then, in a combined effort, the band launched into the rehearsal of many difficult charts for the upcoming International Festival at Reno, followed by festivals at Hayward and, finally at Monterey, where, under unfair and biased judgement, they have been forced to take 2nd place for the last 3 years.

Among this band of both new and old members, there were some all over exceptional performances. Third year returning senior, David "Don't waste my time" Ellis contributed beyond the call of duty, not only musically, as lead tenor, but in rehearsing and directing the band. This direction was greatly aided by junior and lead altoist, Ben "B-Ball" Ball, who won the best soloist award at the Sonoma festival, along with tenor Josh Shedroff, who won the best soloist award in a combo. With these brilliant musicians, the sax section was the strongest it's been in years, handling solis that rival professional standard.

Third time returning senior, Gordon Katz, took over the lead trombone part with a competent hand, and along with the greatly improved playing of sophomore Joad "Let Gordy lead" Skjelbred, the trombone section sounded strong enough to win the best trombone section award at Sonoma.

This year's trumpet section was relatively new, with only two returning seniors, David Chachere, who put in some brilliant solo performances, and Eric "Am I playing too loud I think I should take that solo." Kroger, who surprisingly lived up to the standards set by previous lead players. With the help of these two seniors, the three new members of the trumpet section developed a strong feel for the jazz they played, and together, the section improved the overall tone and quality of the band.

This brings us to the rhythm section, which was outstanding. Led by 2 year returning senior, David Markowitz and his supreme performance on the guitar, the section consisted of sophomore, Stefano "Magic Fingers" DeZerega on the piano, who took the best player award at the Sonoma Festival, junior Miles Perkins, who, by taking over the position of bass, gave meaning to the word "swing," and 3 year returning senior, Guapo Lee, who provided a steady beat that supported the group.

With this fabulous combination of musicians, and the undying support of Lucy Anderton, the band entered the festivals charged with electricity, ready for the competition and the parties that followed. This year's graduating seniors will be greatly missed, but the band looks forward to a year full of progression and surprises!

PEP BAND

The Berkeley High Pep Band is composed of 12 members of the Marching Band. The primary purpose of the Pep Band is to entertain the fans at basketball games. Occasionally, they are asked to perform at functions at other schools, such as the Thousand Oaks Halloween Parade and the John Muir Annual Carnival/Circus.

1. Basketball Pep! Mr. Hamilton is directing Erica Wilson, Gordon Katz, Erik Nelson, Noel St. John, Kristen McMahon, Joad Skjelbred, Paul Buckner, and Joanna Haidalis.

This year saw the return of a high school tradition—the marching band. Berkeley High has been without one in the past few years, but this fall, Aaron Hunger led a wonderful band of over 50 members. The band gave some great support to the football team by playing at their games. They had their premiere at Homecoming and were a smashing success. Not only did they succeed at school, but they won second place in an Emporium/Capwell Parade. ($225!!!!)

VOICES OF JOY

The "Voices of Joy" was organized in October to be Berkeley High's gospel choir. With rehearsals twice a week all year long, their hard work paid off in many concerts at churches around the Bay Area. The Berkeley High Student Body heard the joyous "Voices" at the Black History presentation in February.

2. Johnny Butler at work with Lisa Baker at his side.
3. Singing with Cherie Douglass and Deborah Mack.

GIRLS' CHORUS

Girls' Chorus is a selective choral group that sings music written for treble voices. They perform at Christmas and in the spring concerts with Concert Chorale and the Orchestra.

The choristers are Yo Akino, Tammy Brooks, Gage Coulon, Daagya Dick, Chelsea Fuchs, Naomi Horowitz, Kim Hunt, Levetra Miles, Kimberly Poree, Andrea Rehn, Helene Sadoulet, Karen Strand, Saskia Stuyen, Kathleen 'P.T.' Suto, Miriam Watson, Vicky Wong, Melody Foster, Maurietti Amara, Linda Bowen, Athena Stephens, and Kim Williams.

DANCE PRODUCTION '85

The year 1985 brought B.H.S. one of the most exciting, talent-filled, and original Dance Productions ever. The show was full of great music, creative dances, and super lighting effects. Memorable numbers include the "Hyperactive" story of mad scientists, Diana Mehoudar's "In the Air Tonight" solo, and the Advanced Dancers' "Dancing thru the Decades."

The wide variety of dances were choreographed by the Dance Production and Advanced Dance classes. All who took part were not only superb performers and choreographers, but developed an understanding of lighting, make-up, and costuming.

The 1984-85 school year proved to be a very productive one for Concert Chorale. They finished last year with a bang with their exciting trip to Hawaii and inevitably came back this fall prepared for a great year. The highlight of the fall semester was Chorale's Christmas Concert. They sang a wonderful rendition of Vivaldi's "Gloria," with solos by Catherine Payne and Nancy Olivier, and brought true Christmas cheer with their carols led by Bonnie Ponthier.

As soon as the Christmas season was over, they began work on H.M.S. Pinafore, by Gilbert and Sullivan. In the short period of rehearsal time they had, they brought together a miraculously hysterical production. Leading the cast were Lisa Balabababaa as Josephine, Richard Walker as Ralph "Lionel Richie" Rackstraw, Chris "I hate this jacket" Bowen as Sir Joseph Porter, K.C.B., Peter Foley as Captain Corcoran, Catherine Payne as Little Buttercup, Ken Kokka as Dick Deadeye, and Diana Mehoudar as Cousin Hebe. The show was loads of fun and looked great!

On June 7, Concert Chorale held a concert that was musically superb. The concert repertoire was diverse, including pieces from Mozart's Mass in c-minor, Carl Orff's "Carmina Burana," and Stephen Sondheim's "Sweeney Todd." There were many outstanding solos, including Mozart's "Exsultate Jubilate," sung by soprano Elizabeth Warden. All the pictures shown are from H.M.S. Pinafore.

The lighting and stage(prop) crews are essential parts of any production. The lighting crew designs and operates the lights for the various productions that take place in the Little Theatre. The stage crew works hard backstage moving the sets on and off stage and making sure cast members have the props they need.

1. Bruce Warden, stage manager for Threepenny Opera, and his fan club—the prop crew.(Melissa Budetti, Ling-Yen Jones, and Prop mistress, Katherine Stern).

2. The lighting crew—L to R—Ian Keasler, Janice Gurrola, Suzi Sheikh-ol-Eslami, Richard Bergstresser, Chris Leonardos, Matt Doyle.

COSTUME CREW

The costume crew is a group of crazies who should probably be on stage instead of working in the basement of the "A" building. Under the direction of Pat Washburn, they design, build, and repair the costumes for all the B.H.S. productions. 1. Everyone is busy as Rachel models the latest in the "Blanche Dubois" look.

2. Hiding among the costumes—(L. to R.) Vanessa Warheit, Sara Press, Shauna Sullivan, Yolanda Davis, Charity Craven; Bottom Row—Rohana Kenin, Rachel Rudnick.

3. Vanessa hems Rachel's skirt.

4. The leader of the pack—Pat Washburn.

MAKE-UP CREW

This year's makeup crew had their work cut out for them because of the complex Threepenny Opera clown faces and the large casts of the spring play and operetta. They rose to the challenge brilliantly, though, training some of the new members in less than a week. The crew was one of the most talented in years (Aida even said so!) and they performed complete makeup changes quickly and flawlessly. Their major achievements include all fitting into Patti's car and attaching Chrissee's hair every night.

1. The whole crew—Beorn Whetstone, Elizabeth Treadwell, Elizabeth Warden, Nicole Pinsky, Sonia Mueller, Kathy Suto, Amy Nellis, Caitlin McGrath, Cherene Fillingim.
2. Sonia Mueller gives Elke Glendenning the white-face look.
3. Mrs. Hunter's room is transformed into a make-up room.
4. Many cast members take their make-up into their own hands as Becki Fink and Marcus Brooks do here.
